Selectmen object to Keno license Lottery deals Uptown Deli winning hand

By FRANK J. AMATO

WILMINGTON - The long drawn out saga of Barry Fiorenza's fight to obtain his Keno license may be soon over.

Fiorenza has been sparring with the Board of Selectmen since December of 1996 over its objection to his Keno license for his business, Uptown Deli, on Middlesex Ave.

In October of 1996, Fiorenza applied to the Lottery for a Keno machine. As part of its application procedure, the lottery conducts a routine background check of all Keno applicants, they found nothing that would disqualify him from getting a license.

The town was given the chance to object to the issuance of a license, but the final decision is made by the Lottery Commission.

The Board of Selectmen voted in December of 1996 to voice its objection to the license. At that meeting, Selectmen Bob Cain asked if there was any recommendation by the Chief of Police. "I would not recommend issuance of a Keno license" Town Manager Michael Cairra said reading from a document from Police Chief Bobby Stewart.

Cairra, again reading from the report from Stewart said "As a result of an inquiry into the background of Mr. Fiorenza I would not recommend issuance of a Keno License," he said.

"It has always been the policy of the board to follow the recommendation of our department heads," said then Chairman Jim Rooney.

The Board then requested Cairra to file the necessary objection with the Lottery.

In February of 1997, the Lottery Commission held a hearing at which Chief Stewart represented the town.

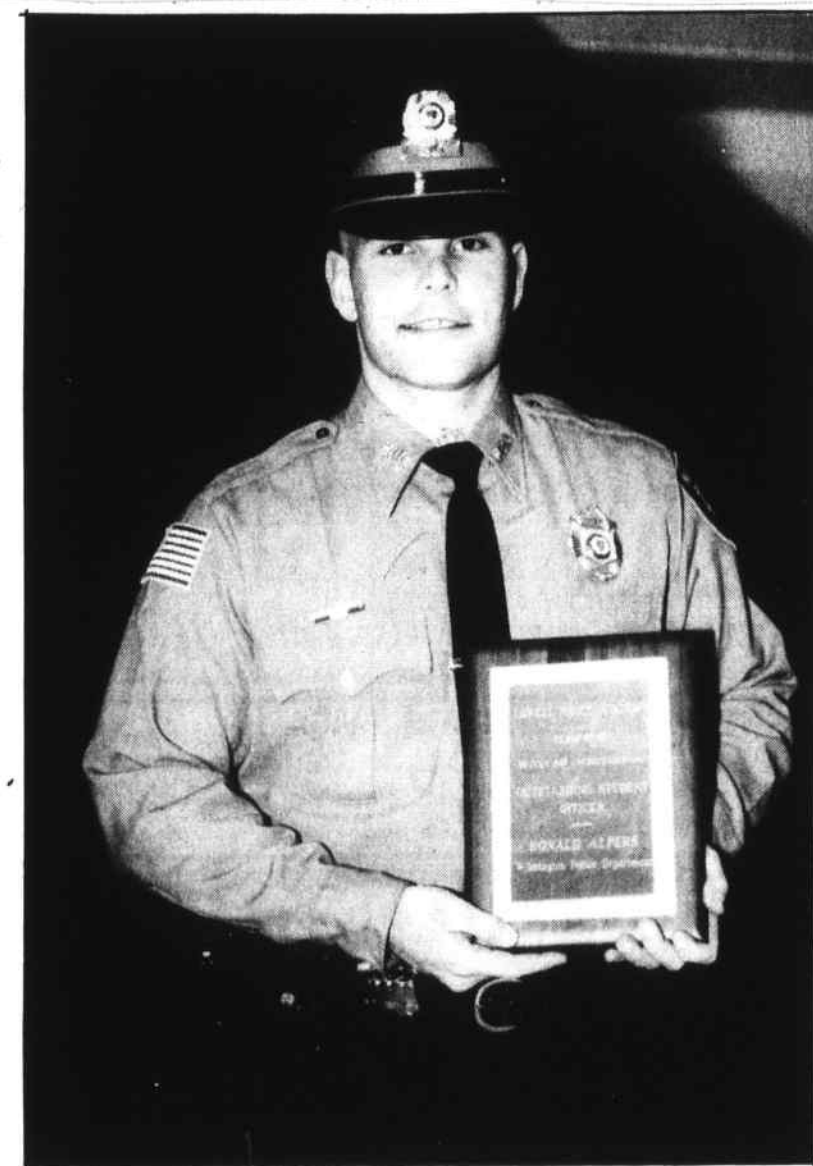

In June, as a result of that hearing The Lottery Commission sent a letter to the Board of Selectmen stating that the case was being left open for the following two reasons:

1. To enable officials from the Lottery to review the results of the agencies criminal offender check (CORI) it had done on Mr. Fiorenza; and

2. To give the town the opportunity to review again the Keno application at the "local level" and invite Mr. Fiorenza to appear before the licensing board to address the specific concerns.

Ronald Alpers receives "Outstanding Officer" award

By ALLAN CAMPBELL

WILMINGTON - On December 19th, Ronald Alpers started his tour of duty with the Wilmington Police Department. Ronald is called "Butch" by his friends and he is pleasant and easy going. He has spent most of his 28 years living in Wilmington.

He grew up in town and attended Wilmington schools, graduating from Wilmington High School with the Class of 1987. Ronald has come back to serve the people of Wilmington as a police officer. He has great credentials in law enforcement as he has just completed an intensive 21 week course at the Lowell Police Academy.

Upon completion of the course he received the Outstanding Officer Award from the academy. This particular award is the equivalent of graduating first in the class. This by itself is quite an achievement, but among his other accomplishments he has also graduated from Westfield State College and succeeded in achieving a double major in criminal justice. He also holds a bachelor of arts degree in psychology. This only verifies the fact that Ronald or "Butch" has put all of his efforts into becoming a highest standard police officer.

After talking with him for a short time, one can understand that he has a great future in law enforcement ahead of him. This is because he really enjoys his work and one can see it in his upbeat attitude. It really is great to have one of Wilmington's own on the police force, as he knows the town and many of the residents quite well. He realizes what a great place Wilmington is to live in and would like the town to stay the way it is now. We want to wish him and the Wilmington Police Department a happy and safe new year.

Barry and Yvonne Fiorenza are eagerly awaiting a resolution to their Keno dilemma. The Fiorenzas have been embattled with the Board of Selectmen since December of 1996. (Photo by Joseph G. Hakey)

Health Bd. takes issue with 3 local businesses

By AMY PETERSON

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Board of Health invited three local business owners to their meeting on Tuesday night to address and clarify problems encountered during routine check ups. Thomas Lew and Jerry Chin, owners of the Royal Dynasty, a Chinese food establishment located on Lowell street, met with the board to discuss issues regarding a $150 fine issued on improper storage of food that was recognized on New Year's Eve.

Apparently, the pair was fined after a board of health member observed cartons of chicken that were open and exposed to the air. Lew and Chin agreed that the incident was a mistake and that because of the ever steady flow of business the restaurant typically receives on that night, the cartons somehow went unnoticed. Dr. James Ficocello of the Board noted that Royal Dynasty has never had any problems or outstanding violations in the past. He said, "You are one of the flagship restaurants in town." Ficocello also noted that the problem was taken care of in a timely and sufficient fashion.

Both Lew and Chin are currently discussing on installing a walk in freezer to be located outside of the establishment and be used for additional food storage. No further standards have been violated and the Board of Health was very pleased with the rapid action taken by Royal Dynasty.

The Board also met with James Meehan of Mancini's, an Italian food establishment, located on Route 38. Apparently, in recent weeks, the board has received two calls regarding problems with smoking in the restaurant. According to Ficocello, patrons that had eaten at Mancini's complained of asthma and allergies brought on by the excessive amount of smoke drifting into the non-smoking section. The board recommended that Meehan install plastic partitions to obstruct the flow of smoke from one section of the eatery to the next.

Meehan agreed to consider installing the partitions to better serve his customers. However, he stated that he did not feel that the partitions would make a big difference in the air flow. "There is always going to be some problem when

Local fifth graders Alternative education experience

By ERIN DOWNING

WILMINGTON - The fifth grade students at the Woburn Street, Shawsheen and Wildwood Schools will have the chance to tackle comprehensive, hands-on learning that integrates all the major school subjects through an alternative outdoor program.

Outdoor L.I.F.E. (Learning Is Fun and Exciting) is a new program that allows the fifth grade students to spend four days at Camp 40 Acres in Wilmington. The four days will be diverse in activities that include warm-up activities, problem-solving and exploration, a lab time, lunch time, a whole group activity and journal writing. The camp does not have housing facilities. Therefore, the students will be bused during the four days.

According to the chairman of the committee that developed the program, Richard Barry, the committee wanted to create a similar program to Nature's Classroom. "In the middle of the summer, we were trying to come up with a model to make a similar program (to Nature's Classroom)," said Barry.

School Committee Vice Chairperson Susanne Clarkin stated that she was pleased to see the program. "Nature's Classroom was shelved and many parents were disappointed last year," said Clarkin. "I wish them luck and I offer to volunteer."

Barry explained how Camp 40 Acres was chosen for the program. "I thought the site needed more use. I saw a good opportunity to join the site with the school department. Hopefully, some more junior high and high school classes can use it," said Barry.

School Committee Chairperson Barbara Breakey noted that she was glad the camp is going to be utilized. "This is something in our own back yard that we can use," said Breakey.

The students will have four full days of activities. After arriving at Camp 40 Acres, the students will participate in the warm-up activities for 15 minutes. The warm-up activities are designed to bring the students together in a highly stimulating game or puzzle. This activity will be supervised and conducted by trained personnel.

The problem-solving and exploration time period is created for the students to participate in different activities that involve unique ways of learning. Groups, of no more than twelve students, will be divided into two areas on the camp. In one section of the camp, problem-solving puzzles will take place.

Jim Miceli A lifetime of lawmaking

By ED LARKIN

TEWKSBURY - For the last twenty years, James Miceli spends his working days climbing the steps of the Massachusetts State house representing Tewksbury and Wilmington. From the Tewksbury Town Common to the Buzzel Senior Center, Miceli's handy work is present in all aspects of public infrastructure.

He grew up in the North End of Boston. In the summer time, he would travel with his family to their summer home in Wilmington. His father enjoyed the area and he moved the family to Wilmington permanently in 1955.

After college, Miceli opened an insurance business and quickly got involved in local issues. During all of this he found time to get married and have three children. His first exposure to government was by the way of the planning

Emerald Estates Water retention area questioned

By ERIN DOWNING

WILMINGTON - A water retention area on the Emerald Estates site plan raises some questions by the Planning Board at the Planning Board meeting Tuesday, January 20.

The Emerald Estates site plan includes seven proposed lots off Andover Street in Wilmington. Lots four, five, six and seven are along the right side of the property near Route 125. Lot three is in the upper-middle portion and lots one and two are on the left side of the property closer to Treasure Hill Road.

According to Planning Board Chairman James DiOrio, there is water drainage off the road that runs into a 8 ft. deep, man-made hole so the property is not destroyed. The Department of Public Works (DPW) requested putting a three feet high security fence around the retention area. However, during the site plan review of the property, the Board questioned the placement of the fence for two reasons, security and aesthetics.

The Board members proposed an important safety issue concerning children. Even though the fence would be three feet high, children can often climb under fences increasing the safety hazard. Therefore, the fence would most likely not stop kids from entering the area.

DiOrio questioned whether the fence would be placed because of safety issues involving people falling down the steep slope or people falling into the water. He stated that the retention area is very small and that the fence is not needed mainly for aesthetic reasons. "I have kids too and I'm concerned about the safety issue also. But, how far do we bring this? Do we fence every retention area now?" questioned DiOrio.

Planning Director Lynn Duncan noted that including the fence would

Cocaine dealer arrested

By CHARLOTTE COOPER
TEWKSBURY - On Friday, January 16th, Police Detective Robert Budryk and Sergeant Dennis Peterson arrested a Dracut resident on drug charges.
After over a month of intense investigation by Police, 39 year old Nancy J. Fleming, of 70 Brook Street Dracut, was arrested at the Deli King Restaurant 885 Main St., Tewksbury. Fleming was taken into custody as she prepared to sell cocaine to 33 year old Joseph C.

Thorburne of Billerica. Police had been receiving tips that Fleming was a distributor of cocaine, but an arrest could not take place until Police received sufficient evidence to prosecute.

"On Friday night, we executed three separate search warrants [on Fleming]," Budryk said. One warrant was for search of the Deli King, the second was for search of her vehicle and the third was to search her Dracut residence. Police retrieved $3300.00 in cash and approximately 63 grams cocaine.

Police arrested both Fleming and Thorburne after an under cover agent at the Deli King bar observed a transaction between the two. Fleming is charged with possession of cocaine with intent to distribute of cocaine and trafficking in over 28 grams of the drug. Thorburne was also arrested on charges of possession of cocaine.

The investigation included both Dracut and North Andover police and was headed by Budryk and Peterson of Tewksbury. Police believe Fleming was a major distributor of cocaine in the area.

TUITION BONUSES IN THE NEW LAW

Congress and the President have placed great emphasis on widening educational opportunities for American youth. And indeed, the new tax law offers a number of tax breaks for college students and their parents.

Biggest bonus is the Hope tax credit, to pay for the first $1,000 of college tuition and fees and 50 percent of the next $1,000 for freshman and sophomore years - per child. There is also a "lifetime learning credit" for 20 percent of the first $5,000 of college costs, for a top of $1,000; this is available once a year, no matter how many kids are in college. The credits phase out when parent's joint income hits $80,000 to $100,000.

An educational IRA - $500 per child - can be set up by parents or anyone else with income under $150,000. It's not deductible, but earnings are tax-free if used for college. Student loan repayments up to $1,000 may be deductible, too.

Will you qualify for these bonuses? Talk it over with the tax people at...

Become involved with Amnesty International

Dear Larz:
Amnesty International (AI) is an organization working for human rights around the world. Known for its accuracy, Amnesty researches human rights abuses and leads campaigns to end those abuses that can be documented. The Freedom Writers are a group which receives monthly letters informing them of three specific cases, usually of political prisoners. Amnesty asks that you write on the cases within a month after receiving the notice. All letters should be courteous, accurately specifying the facts given in the case histories. Under no circumstances should you write to the prisoner mentioned.

This month I received a newsletter detailing a situation in Rwanda. In the past year, killings in Rwanda have reached the highest levels recorded since the start of 1995. Thousands of unarmed civilians, many of them returning refugees, have been killed by the Rwandese Patriotic Army and armed opposition groups. Amnesty is concerned that the international community is ignoring these killings.

The United States has been one of the main political and military supporters of the ruling Rwandese Patriotic Front and its armed branch, the RPA. Despite this close involvement, the U.S. Government is not known to have publicly condemned the grave human rights violations carried out by the RPA against civilians.

Amnesty believes the U.S. authorities should demonstrate that the military training they have provided to the RPA has not contributed to these violations. AI also urges U.S. officials to denounce the grave abuses in Rwanda. Please write letters to the U.S. officials summarizing AI's concerns about the situation in Rwanda, and emphasizing that thousands of unarmed civilians have been killed since the beginning of 1997. Write to: William Cohen / Secretary of Defense / 1000 Defense Pentagon / Washington DC 20301-1000. Salutation: Dear Secretary Cohen.

Confusion over interview

Dear Larz:
Your Wednesday, January 14, 1998 article on Wilmington's selectmen's race contained a major factual error. Mr. Mark Nelson is not an elected member of the Economic Redevelopment Authority. I was elected in 1997 (unopposed). Mr. Nelson ran in 1996 for the RDA and was defeated. I request a highlighted correction in your next issue. Thank you.

Ed's doing well

Dear Larz:
Ed Wilson, recently retired from the Tewksbury Fire Department, successfully underwent open heart surgery at Mass. General Hospital this past week. He is doing very well and

In the Mexican state of Morelos, indigenous leaders, environmentalists and human rights activists are fighting a government sponsored project to build a multi-million dollar resort on land considered sacred by the community.

Leticia Moctezuma Vargas, a teacher and activist, has been peacefully campaigning with other members of the Tepoztlan community to stop the project, which could seriously damage the local environment. As a result of her participation in the protest, she and her young daughters have been beaten and have received death threats.

In April 1996, Moctezuma Vargas and her daughters joined a peaceful rally that was violently broken up by police. At the rally, she saw three officers drag Marcos Olmedo Gutierrez, an elderly member of the community, wounded but alive, into a police vehicle. He was later found shot to death.

Please send letters urging a prompt and thorough investigation into the attacks and threats against Leticia Moctezuma Vargas and others in her community; asking that those responsible be brought to justice; and requesting immediate measures to protect the activist and her family. Write to: Lic. Emilio Chuayffet Chemor / Secretario de la Gobernacion / Secretaria de la Gobernacion / Bucareli 99, 1er Piso, Col. Juarez / 06699 Mexico DF, Mexico. Salutation: Dear Minister.

Here is an opportunity to become involved directly with Amnesty's ongoing work. The people whose stories are told here all need your immediate help. Please take the actions indicated to the end of each story. These letter writing campaigns often result in the release of the named prisoner. You can help to make the world a safer place with just a couple of stamps and less than an hour of your time.

I am also concerned that this confusion may continue in the future because our first names are the same. Your reporter, Mr. Devlin, when interviewing me, initially thought he was talking to Mr. Nelson. Please emphasize to your reporters that this type of mistake may occur again and to be aware of this situation.

Mark Zinan

his family would like to thank everyone very much for their cards, phone calls and concerns.

Sincerely,
The Wilson Family

Still tick'in!

Dear Larz:

Hey, says I'm old? I haven't got any more than anyone else. Got a plug in one ear, electric, now I can hear a lot of noise, but can't make out where it's coming from. Can't hold anything anymore. I sleep in between and I can tell what time it is because I have a clock that dings on the hour, 1:30, 2:42, 6:30 and 7:32 when I have to put the dog out.

Coming down the stairs one knee goes east and the other goes west; have to tie them together to get where I think I'm supposed to go.

Seeing, boy can I! They put two lenses in. Can tell that there's water on the moon cause I can make out waves on the lakes. Papers, hold them up in Boston; I can read them. Everything gives me a pain in the neck; can't be age because all my friends are gone and I'm still here; all here.

Well you may not go along with that. I haven't checked up lately, something might have fallen off. Might have to get one of those little monkeys that used to follow the model T's around picking up the pieces.

Age? You had better check up if you're over 80 you could be surprised that you're still ticking so well!

Accessing student input on faculty

Dear Larz:

I am writing this letter as the student member of the Massachusetts Board of Higher Education. At the January 13th meeting of the board I presented a proposal to endorse the concept of making student evaluations of faculty accessible to students. The purpose for implementing this practice is simple; to provide students with the most information when they are registering for courses. Students know their needs and their preferred learning environments better than anyone. By allowing them to access past student feedback about professors, we are giving them information that will help them make the best choices when registering for classes.

Currently students evaluate faculty members at the end of each semester and the results of these evaluations become part of the faculty member's personnel file. Because these evaluations are used in personnel decisions, they are protected as private information by state law. My hope is to develop a separate evaluation with questions that do not overlap the current evaluations; the results of which would be used strictly for student access.

I feel very strongly about this issue which arose completely as a student initiative. As a member of the Board of Higher Education it is my responsibility to serve the 170,000 students of the system. I believe that in working toward granting student accessibility to faculty evaluations, that I am doing this. Students across the state have supported this idea, and I will fight for it to be a system-wide priority in collective bargaining. This is not a matter of attacking faculty members nor is it a matter of job security; faculty members who are doing their job should not fear this proposal. The main idea here is that we should do all that we can to help our students succeed.

Sincerely,
Eleanor Court, Student Member
Board of Higher Education
Junior, University of Massachusetts/Amherst

We must be watchful

*Dear Larz:

The blue "Town Topics" announcement enclosed with the Wilmington January property tax bills must be seen by all! It is dated Jan-March 1998, vol 3 no. 2.

On the front page, under "Properties to be Reinspected," residents are informed that the Massachusetts Department of Revenue has mandated interior inspections of all homes by tax appraisers.

This matter-of-fact announcement, however innocent, should send a cold shiver down every freedom loving citizen's spine. It flies in the face of privacy rights and property rights. It also begs the question whether the people who pay the taxes in this state are all considered cheats and liars? Wouldn't a simple questionnaire in the mail box be as useful, less threatening, and much less insulting?

Our local, state and federal governments exist by the consent and authority of the people, and according to constitutional guidelines. From time to time, public officials and employees must be reminded of this. Meanwhile, we "citizens," poor and wealthy, have the duty to be always watchful, demanding that government at all levels stay within the authority we have entrusted to it.

Sincerely,
Robert Ethier

Protecting our indigenous wildlife

Dear Larz:

I congratulate and wish the best to the new head of Wilmington's Department of Public Works (DPW) but I will venture to offer him some off-the-cuff advice.

In the past the DPW has groomed the beaches at Silver Lake between the third week of May and the second week of June. This is a great idea to get the beaches beautiful for the summer, but the large grading vehicles that do the work could tend to crush the current batch of turtle eggs that were laid during the current year. Groom the beaches, but do it no later than the second week of May. The turtles lay their eggs during the first and second week of June, but this can vary.

My basic fascination has been the snapping turtle, but I have seen spotted turtles at the lake over the years. The snapper is one of the ugliest creatures that I know of, and is "regulated" by State Fish and Game while the spotted turtle is listed as "special concern," not "endangered," as is sometimes reported.

The snapper is one creature that is a throwback to dinosaur days and is listed as regulated because it is highly prized as a food source. Hundreds of thousands of tons a year are harvested for soups and stews. If you travel to Williamsburg, VA, you might ask a snapper trapper how well he does selling turtles to food processing plants in the area. In Mass. they can be hunted year round, and a hunting license is required only if the harvesting is done for commercial purposes.

I am sure that many of you have a snapper story to tell, but my favorite has a basis in the 1920s. An elderly Indian had a snapper that was tethered to a line and released to search for drowning victims. When the line stopped playing out they would follow the line to find the turtle feeding and the body could then be recovered.

It seems that the snapper believes in a well balanced diet, eating young waterfowl, fish carrion and insects. It rounds this out with aquatic vegetation. I have found they adore the pieces of stale pizza that I used to throw out. Contrary to popular belief, they rarely ever bite humans.

Generally around the first or second week of June you might read in the newspapers about turtle sightings, in backyards or crossing the roads. They are on their way to lay eggs. If you feel it necessary to move it off the road, continue in the direction the turtle was traveling or simply enjoy watching a living dinosaur as it goes about life.

A female can retain sperm from a single mating for several years and will travel to its favorite nesting spot, usually in the early morning hours. It will excavate a hole/nest with its rear legs and then deposit an average amount of 24 eggs which it covers up and abandons. In about 90 days, usually during the heavier rains of September the eggs hatch. In about four years the babies mature.

When my son was young, he and I had the pleasure to observe a "hatch" as it was happening. We took home and observed 35 baby snappers and returned them to their own environment the next day.

Chelonians are reptiles that are protected by a shell. This group is divided into Testudines (turtles), which is further divided into Terrapins (water) and Tortises (land). Snappers are in the family Chelydridae (Chelydra Serpentina) and grow to be from eight to 18 inches long and weigh from 10 to 35 pounds. The records for "wild caught" snappers is 19 3/8 inches and 75 pounds. A record weight for a captive raised snapper was 86 pounds.

Snappers that live in vernal ponds or in areas that are experiencing drought conditions will estivate. They dig into the mud to retain moisture and go into a state similar to hibernation until normal water conditions return.

Anne Coviello joins Town Crier staff

With the winter doldrums and blahs in full swing by now, it's nice to know there are lots of things going on in and around our community to keep our spirits lifted. The many clubs and organizations in the Tewksbury/Wilmington area continue to sponsor various functions and activities throughout the year and we, at the Town Crier, want to know what's happening about town.

Hello, my name is Anne Coviello and I have recently joined the staff of The Town Crier as the new social reporter. My upcoming assignments will include keeping all of you up to date on area happenings and newsworthy stories. The topics that I will be reporting on will cover a broad spectrum of social events, such as engagements, weddings, anniversaries, dances, fundraisers, and social news pertaining to the numerous clubs and organizations that have established themselves in Tewksbury and Wilmington. Generally speaking, any news that may be of interest to our readers is news that we want to report to you.

I look forward to this new undertaking and hope to deliver the "bits and pieces" of community life to you in a concise and reader-friendly manner.

Please contact me by phone at The Town Crier at 978-657-2346 or drop by our offices with your messages and news.

Miceli: A lifetime of lawmaking

board. After three years, he ran and captured a seat on the Board of Selectman.

"I always felt my strength was I never waited to be asked to do something for the community. When I am driving through the area, if I see a problem, I will stop and try and find out the details," said Miceli.

After 12 years as a selectman, in 1977, Miceli ran for Fred Cain's seat when a special election was called. Since that time, he has sat on every major committee in the house. Currently, Miceli sits on the Post Audit and Oversight Committee.

"In my experience, it is when I work with the local leadership or people of the community, that is the foundation of our district's success. Most local projects come from someone's idea. For example, Rocco DiPasquale called my office about the access on Silver Lake. We now have the project outlined and I am going to try to ensure the money finds its way into this year's budget," said Miceli.

The traffic along 38, 62, and 129 continue to be of great concern to both the communities. With some noticeable improvements beginning, there is still a lot of work to be done. "I have earmarked $400 million dollars for the new T Station. I still believe we need some funds for the project, so I continue to fight for funds to see that the project is done right," said Miceli.

Many of the projects have taken so much time because Miceli believes in fighting for complete funding. "Many times the funds are allocated and it really isn't enough money or the project design is not adequate for the situation. I would rather spend more time getting the right funding so the item is done right the first time," said Miceli.

Each year, Miceli holds town meetings in both Tewksbury and Wilmington. He also circulates a survey each year to gather opinions on issues that concern the district. "Sure my job is about getting funds to make improvements to our communities. But, my real job is helping my constituents. Not a day goes by that I don't get a call from someone with a difficult situation. It has always been my goal to address these problems in a timely, professional manner," said Miceli.

Asked if he is running for another term, Miceli responded, "I feel that a probably will run again. I am in the best position of my legislative career to do for the district. As part of the House Leadership, I have built lasting relationships based on integrity and honesty."

On the question of possible opponents, Miceli explained, "Since there has not been anyone who has officially declared, I really don't have a comment. When the time comes, I will address that issue. I already have people calling me asking if I need some help on my campaign. I haven't yet declared, and I am already getting some wonderful support."

What are the important topics for Miceli in the future? "Education is really on my mind. I am working to ensure these issues are covered. I continue to focus on crime and road improvements. These are some of the more important community issues."

It is difficult to walk anywhere in Tewksbury or Wilmington and not find a municipal project Jim Miceli had a hand in developing. "I looking forward to working for a stronger community," said Miceli. Miceli on his future, "Paul Tsongas would say this about running for office, 'There are two ways to run, unopposed and scared.'" It seems Miceli is already planning ahead.

Senior profile

Michelle Cornin's plan is complete

by BEN DeGENNARO
WILMINGTON - Michelle Cornin, a member of the senior class at Wilmington High School (WHS) is a kind individual as well as a dedicated and effective student leader. She is the treasurer for Student Council at WHS and a member of Students Working for AIDS Termination (SWAT), Bread & Roses and the Wildcat News staff. As treasurer for Student Council, she collects member dues and helps to distribute funds for Student Council projects. She also assisted with the annual craft fair at WHS. Michelle is a member of the typing staff for the Wildcat News.

Robert and Claire are Michelle's proud parents. Michelle is ranked 20th out of 152 students in the senior class. This is quite an accomplishment. She scored over 1000 on her SAT's and is taking high level courses at WHS. Michelle's schedule includes such challenging courses as Honors Spanish 5, Psychology, English 12, Office of the Future, and Accounting.

Michelle attributes a lot of her success in high school to Ms. Joyce Aldrich. "Ms. Aldrich is a wonderful teacher. She has been an inspiration to me. She brought out the best in me and makes learning fun." Ms. Aldrich is a member of the English Department at WHS.

Since her freshman year, Michelle has played varsity tennis. She plays third singles. Michelle's accomplishment that she is most proud of is when she qualified for National Honor Society. She qualified for National Honor Society after first term in her senior year. Congratulations, Michelle!

In addition to her tough class schedule, and outstanding extracurricular activities, Michelle volunteers at the American Cancer Society in Wilmington. For the past two years, she has also worked as a dietary aide at Lahey Hitchcock Clinic in Burlington and over the summers, was a dental assistant in an office in Reading. It's hard to imagine that after all this, Michelle still has time to study and qualify for National Honor Society!

After graduation from high school, Michelle plans to attend college. While Westbrook College is her first choice, she is also considering Forsyth, University of Rhode Island, and Merrimack College. Westbrook is Michelle's first choice because "it's perfect for me. It is a private college that offers a wonderful dental hygiene program; and it is only one hour and 15 minutes away." Westbrook College is part of the University of New England.

Michelle plans to major in dental hygiene because she enjoyed working in a dental office this summer. She realized that the hygienist plays an important role in the dental office. Michelle loves having her own patients. We know you will be a success. Reach for your dreams!

After graduating from college, Michelle plans to marry the man of her dreams, start a family and continue her career as a successful dental hygienist.

Michelle's favorite high school memories include all the dances, but most of all, the junior prom. Michelle is an outstanding student at WHS and will continue to succeed in life. She is a caring person, and a role model to a future generation.

KITCHEN CATASTROPHE

You have found an almost perfect house - the right number of bedrooms and baths, a wonderful family room, a great back yard. Your pulse rate increases as you imagine your furniture in the living room, your "excess" neatly stored in the huge attic, and your tulip bulbs blooming in the garden. However, the kitchen looks like the original one and it was built long before conveniences like dishwashers or microwaves.

If you have fallen in love with a house with an ugly kitchen, you should consider renovating it. Contact a contractor for expert advice during the structural contingency period. Re-doing a kitchen can be a major undertaking, especially if you move walls around. If you put in new appliances, cabinets, and flooring into the existing space, it can be done in a shorter period of time and for a small fraction of the cost. Kitchen improvements are considered excellent investments.

WHS Drama Class debuts "From Page To Stage"

by MICHAEL VITALE
WILMINGTON - On Thursday, January 22, the Wilmington High School Drama Class will be performing its second play of the year, "From Page to Stage." The first play, "Under Milkweed," was a hit with the students who saw it, but this play is on a larger scale, and the group is ready to perform in front of adults and parents. "Under Milkweed" was performed at the beginning of October meaning that the new play has been in the works for nearly three months. This new performance, which consists of an array of scenes from various motion pictures, will be the last for the Semester I Drama Class.

This play has been supervised by Drama and English teacher Matt Joyce, and the play's director, Kristin Flynn. The crew has been working endlessly setting up the stage and preparing the lighting to make this a truly magnificent event.

Flynn's main scene comes from a stirring moment in "When a Man Loves a Woman," where she portrays the battling alcoholic who has let down her husband and her children. Actually every member of the class got the chance to produce a scene from whichever movie he desires. Junior Mike Carr is playing a confused Kevin Kline in a hilarious scene from "In and Out."

Junior Beth Capotosto will be portraying as Eliza Doolittle learning about the Rain in Spain from "My Fair Lady."

Other scenes that the students are performing come from "Scream," "MacBeth," "Bed of Roses," "Marvin's Room," and "The Breakfast Club."

"Everyone's worked really hard and it will be a good show," said Carr. Sophomore Stephanie Sordillo added that "the play took a lot of creativity and it will pay off."

The play will be performed on Thursday at 3 p.m. in Barrows Auditorium at WHS. Tickets are $3 and will be available at the door.

White graduates

WILMINGTON - Army Pvt. Erik P. White, son of Marty and Edward White of Lake Street, Wilmington, has graduated from basic combat training at Fort Knox, KY.

During the training, trainees received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid and Army history and traditions.

Video Explorers Club seeks members

WILMINGTON - Are you and your friends looking for something fun and exciting to do after school this winter? Have you ever thought of producing your own music videos, talk shows or movies?

If yes, then the Video Explorers Club is for you. Wilmington Community Television has announced this exciting program to take place at the North and West Intermediate Schools. Club members will learn how to produce their own tv programs through hands-on training.

WCTV's Dan Minot and Christina Vallenti will be offering instruction one day per week at each school. Bus transportation home is available. The registration fee is $10 and includes all course materials, video tapes, use of camcorders and other television equipment, a WCTV membership card and a WCTV t-shirt.

Middle school students are encouraged to contact their school principal to sign up. Limited space is available. For additional information, contact Dan Minot at 657-4066.

Education

There will be up to six stations and each station will have a trained instructor who will present the puzzles to the group. A report on Outdoor L.I.F.E. described the problem-solving part of the day. "Group problem-solving techniques will be part of the initial instruction. After the puzzle has been explained, each group will spend up to a half hour on that puzzle, then move to another station where they will be presented a new puzzle. This will allow each group to work on three puzzles a day," reads the report.

In the second area, the other half of the students will be doing activities that involve topics such as art, geology and natural sciences. The group problem-solving and exploration activities will last for an hour and fifteen minutes.

The students will then spend an hour engaging in lab activities. The lab time is designed to either enhance ideas the students have been exposed to earlier in the session or to teach a concept that might be new. Many of the labs have direct ties to the fifth grade curriculum designed to empower students with techniques that they can use later that could make each of them responsible citizens in Wilmington, the Commonwealth, the nation and the world," states the report.

Even the half-hour lunch time includes supervised activities designed to promote self-confidence and self-esteem. The activities take place once the students finish their lunch.

The children then move onto a 45 minute whole group activity created to bring the entire school together in an activity that teaches concepts like cultural diversity and involvement in the community as responsible citizens of the future.

After arriving back at school, students are given the opportunity to reflect on their experiences from the day through a journal entry. Each school has the chance to create their own field trip on the fifth day.

Barry stated that the alternative outdoor education program is some of the students first experience at a camp. "These are things available to kids who can't go to a camp," said Barry.

The School Committee also approved the new middle school's schematic design at the School Committee meeting Wednesday, January 12. The school will be located across the street from the West Intermediate School on Carter Lane.

Massachusetts State Senator Bruce Tarr attended the meeting and praised the Wilmington School Department's work. "I extend my congratulations. I think that there has been a tremendous coordination effort. I know that Representative (James) Miceli is very enthused about this," said Tarr.

Public Building Superintendent Roger Lessard stated that there are no finalized designs for the school, but different designs have been looked at. He did give a description of what the school might look like. The school will have a canopy over the front entrance, it will be 60 feet longer than the West Intermediate and the roof will not be flat. "We want to make a creative building. We want the kids to have a fun building to go into everyday," said Lessard

Obituaries

Angelo F. Ingaharro

Marine Corps veteran of two wars

TEWKSBURY - Angelo F. Ingaharro, 74, patriarch of a well known Tewksbury family, died Tuesday afternoon, January 20, 1998 at his Tewksbury residence after a lengthy illness. He was the husband of Eleanor M. (McKillop) Ingaharro, with whom he celebrated a 51st wedding anniversary October 21.

Born in Crabtree, PA, February 14, 1923, he was the son of the late John J. and Mary (Auricchio) Ingaharro. He was raised in Jeannette, PA, but lived most of his life in the Boston area (Somerville) for seven years before moving to Tewksbury 43 years ago.

He was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and served during WWII and the Korean War.

In earlier years he worked as a rock lather for the William DuFour & Sons Construction Co. and for the past 24 years was employed at Tom's Chevron and Fred's Service Station, which is now operated as Gallante's Auto Center in Wilmington.

He was a life member of the Nee Ellsworth Post 2458, VFW, Wilmington and was active in St. William's parish.

He is survived by four daughters and two sons-in-law, Donna M. Bell and her dear friend

Howard C. Whitten Jr. of Tewksbury, Eleanor J. and her husband George Pickowicz of Gilmanton, N.H., Joann M. and her husband Arthur Johnston of Derry, N.H. and Alva A. Ingaharro of No. Reading; three sons and daughters-in-law, Walter J. and Karen (Graves) Ingaharro of Candia, N.H., John J. and Rose (Sarcia) Ingaharro of Salem, N.H., and Francis A. and Kathleen (Silicer) Ingaharro of Essex; 20 grandchildren, two great-granddaughters and numerous nieces and nephews.

Mr. Ingaharro was the last of eight children. His funeral is scheduled for Saturday at 9 a.m. from the Tewksbury Funeral Home, corner of Dewey and Main Sts. (Rte. 38) Tewksbury Center, followed at 10 a.m. by a funeral mass in St. William's Church, 1351 Main St., Tewksbury. Friends may call at the funeral home Friday from 2 to 4 and from 7 to 9 p.m. Interment will be in Tewksbury Cemetery following cremation at Linwood Crematory.

Memorial contributions to the American Lung Assn., 5 Mountain Rd., P.O. Box 265, Burlington, MA 01803 or the Oblate Father's Infirmary Fund, P.O. Box 419, Tewksbury, MA 01976 will be appreciated.

David E. Stevens

served with Army of Occupation in Japan

Wilmington Police are looking for the owners of a laser printer and a mantle clock that were found in the wood behind Town Hall. Anyone claiming these items must present serial numbers and a receipt for the items. Anyone who wishes to claim the items should contact Inspector Tom Miller at 978-657-8082. Police have been plagued with a series of housebreaks that have been occurring close to Route 93. The breaks are usually occurring early in the morning between 9-11 am. They have been accessing the homes through a breezeway breaking a pane of glass in the door. The thieves have been targeting TVs and VCRs. Police are encouraging residents to contact police if they see anything at all suspicious. Also, detectives suggest recording serial numbers and photographing all valuable items. Anyone with any information may contact detectives King or Miller anonymously.

10 years ago

Members of the Affordable Housing Task Force explored at least 10 ways to create affordable housing in Wilmington. They planned to turn the options over to their consultants for recommendations.

Wilmington applied for and received a $9,000 Incentive Aid Grant from EOCD to help in the area of strategic planning. Grant funds would be used to improve Wilmington's long range planning process in all areas, especially in the delivery of public services, education and housing and economic development.

James Moynahan of Hanson Road was named to the dean's list at the College of Commerce and Finance at Villanova University, Penn.

Louise Miceli of Dadant Drive, was welcomed back to her post of receptionist at the Buzzell Senior Center following an absence of several weeks during which she was hospitalized.

Adult evening education registration open

WILMINGTON - Registration is currently being held for Wilmington Community School's Adult Evening Education Program. Courses will focus on computer/business skills, financial planning, health, hobbies, and other topics of general interest. Wilmington Community Schools provides residents of Wilmington and surrounding communities the opportunity to attend local, affordable classes to learn new skills or just to enjoy a night out in a class. This year, the popular computer courses have been able to expand the number of students per class due to increased computer workstations at the high school.

Courses will include: Internet, Excel, intro to computers, Microsoft Word, Powerpoint, Advanced Windows 95-Office 97, Web Page, financial planning, business communications, television production, writing, quilting, photo memories, sewing, stenciling, and conversational Spanish. Classes are held between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m.

Complete course catalogs are currently available at Wilmington Memorial Library. Please note one correction for Powerpoint to be held on Tuesdays instead of Thursdays. Classes start the week of February 2.

For more information call 978-694-6015. Mail-in registrations may be sent to Wilmington Adult Education, 161 Church St., Wilmington, MA 01887.

Chamber offers Trade show exhibiting and millennium marketing

WILMINGTON - Sacks & Co., Inc. located at 155 West St., Wilmington will host the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce's Corporate Profile Series Program, Tuesday, January 27 from 5 to 7 p.m.

Owner, Irving Sacks has invited Chamber members and guests to tour his facility and see first hand all of the exciting and innovative possibilities for trade show marketing. Each department at Sacks & Co. will offer continuous mini-presentations of their disciplines and features. Guests will visit the "Exhibit Resource Center," a unique microcosm of an actual trade show hall, which is a panorama of various exhibits - both simulated and actual.

As the year 2000 approaches, and the obvious appeal of electronic communications, Mr. Sacks reminds all that "We must not lose sight of the fact that nothing really happens without human to human contact." The "Convention and accompanying trade show venue" says Mr. Sacks, is the only expedient and efficient method of compressing a large number of personal contacts into a few days and at most 20 to 40 meaningful and productive hours." To register for this entertaining and educational program, call the Chamber office at 657-7211.

Board of health meets with local businesses

smoking is allowed," Meehan said. The board also requested that Meehan affix signs that designate the smoking and non smoking areas. Recently, the town of Wilmington put into effect a bylaw that mandated that at least 50 percent of all areas in restaurants must be non smoking zones.

In fact, the board is now composing a plan that would eliminate smoking completely in all restaurants in the town by the year 1999. Head Inspector Greg Erickson offered up the suggestion and the board decided to distribute surveys to all restaurants in town asking whether or not they agree to the plan. Erickson said, "Since we have made our regulations of 50 percent non smoking, other towns have enacted 100 percent non smoking laws." He added that he would like to see the issue brought to the floor at the town meeting.

Wilmington has begun a major crack-down on the use and sale of tobacco, especially to minors. "We want children to avoid becoming hooked to cigarettes," Ficcoello said to Rafael Beamud, the owner of the Hess gas station on Route 38. Beamud was recently fined $300 after an employee sold a minor cigarettes during a compliance check by the board on Dec. 29, 1997. The sale was Hess's third in four years during a compliance check. According to Ficcoello, if Beamud violates the sale of tobacco law again within the next 12 months, he could be slapped with another $300 fine and will lose his license to sell for seven days. Ficcoello said, "Any subsequent violation could lead to revocation for a year."

Beamud told the board that he was aware of the circumstances, but defended himself alleging that he always checks identification when selling cigarettes and was not present during each of the compliance's. Beamud said that each time that a minor was sold to during a compliance it was because the employee did not care. He said, "The first sale was made by a disgruntled employee who knew he was about to get fired and ended walking out of the station that day. And in the incident in December, the employee not only sold to a minor but he knew and didn't care."

Beamud expressed his displeasure with the incidents and suggested to the board that a law be activated that not only does the business owner get fined for selling tobacco to a minor but the clerk who sold them as well. Beamud believes that the law would lessen the sales to minors but also allow employees to be more cautious and responsible because the money is coming out of their own pocket.

He said, "These kids could care less right now. It is my business that gets hurt, my family gets hurt, and my pocket gets hurt. If we don't find the clerk responsible of this offense then I am going to lose my business."

The Board agreed to consider creating a law that would fine any clerk caught selling tobacco products to a minor.

Emerald Estates water retention questioned

alter the landscaping around the area.

The town would be responsible for maintaining the fence if the Board agreed to constructing it. The fence would also be located on someone's property. Therefore, Duncan stated that the property owner could choose whether to place the fence there rather than having it requested.

The Board agreed that safety and aesthetics weighed heavier than the request to construct the fence. They approved the plan with the condition to eliminate the security fence.

Duncan stated that if the developers, Joseph Langone, a representative from the Northeastern Development Corporation, and Jeff Miller, from the KJ Miller Company, have concerns they can bring the plan back to the Planning Board for discussion.

The Board also reviewed the site plan for a retail store at 277 Main Street in Wilmington. According to owner Cynthia Palaro, the store will sell a variety of furniture, such as outdoor and casual furniture.

Several changes were made to the plan since the Board's last review. Some of the revisions include a 10 foot wide landscaping buffer on the right side of the building, which was required. The handicapped parking spaces were moved to the front of the building. According to Palaro, the entrance closest to Hess Gas station is going to be closed and the remaining entrance was reduced from 32 to 30 feet.

The Board raised a concern with the required number of parking spaces on the site when reviewing the plan. The property has thirty-eight parking spaces and the owner believes that the nature of the business does not mandate the required number of parking spaces. However, DiOrio stated that because the size of the building is so large, it might require more parking spaces.

Palaro explained that the present number of parking spaces is sufficient. "People spend a lot of money at once and they don't spend a lot of time inside," said Palaro. "The spring time is when there's the highest number of customers and this is five to ten cars at the most at once."

Palaro noted that five to six employees, at most, will be at the store through out the day.

Duncan stated that an approval for a special permit from the Board of Appeals is needed to reduce the required number of parking spaces. Duncan suggested limiting the special permit to reduce the number of parking requirements to this specific business. "So, if you were to change to another site and a new retail store comes in, the special permit for parking would have to be changed because it is a large building and a new owner might have to use the parking spaces," said Duncan.

DiOrio supported Duncan's suggestion stating that the idea works.

The Board voted for the site plan with conditions. Some of the conditions include that the storage area in the rear of the building be screened from public view. The storage area also has to be restricted from customer access and a special permit be restricted to this tenant.

Keno

If as a result of this action the town maintains its objection, the town was asked to detail its reasons to the lottery as they specifically relate to Keno.

In July, the Board of Selectmen voted to continue to object to the application, but refused to invite Fiorenza before the Board as requested by the Lottery.

January 9th, seven months later the Lottery responded to the continued objection by sending a sharp letter to the town: "Once again, the Massachusetts State Lottery Commission urges you to address and, hopefully resolve the issue at the local level by giving Mr. Fiorenza an opportunity to appear and be heard before the Licensing Board of the town. If the Licensing Board refuses to conduct and/or schedule a Hearing by January 30th 1998, the Hearing Officer will submit the enclosed recommended finding to the full Lottery Commission at its February meeting," the letter stated.

Included with the letter was the Lottery Commissions findings and conclusions. Those findings indicate that the town did not adequately clarify its objection. It also stated: "I find after, considering all the relevant circumstances, that such license is in the public interest. Therefore, the MSLC's (Massachusetts State Lottery Commission) preliminary approval of a Keno License to be issued to Uptown Deli if hereby ordered to be affirmed."

"I am pleased that the lottery is in favor of my application. It has been a long time and hopefully it will be resolved soon in my favor," Fiorenza said from his home Wednesday morning.

The subject will be on the Selectmen's agenda Monday night.

Wildcat wrestling team takes trip up north

by Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

For the fourth straight year, the Wilmington High wrestling team took a trip to Mount Anthony, Vermont, the old high school of head coach Mike Pimental, to take part in one of the toughest tournaments around.

Wilmington had very tough competition as Mount Anthony is rated one of the top teams in the country and not only did they have to go up against their wrestlers, but ones from Marshwood, Maine, Franklin, Mass., and other powerhouse teams from Connecticut and New York. Marshwood is rated the top team in Maine, while, Franklin is one of the top teams in this state. Anyway, with a team that has six freshmen on it, the Cats did outstanding, taking sixth place out of eleven teams.

"We are very impressed with what the kids did," Pimental said. "We have seen a lot of improvement already. To take a sixth place with six freshmen against these caliber teams is something."

The Cats had just two of their wrestlers place and they were Jamie Campbell who took a second and Dan Bonnell, who swiped a fourth at the 125-pound weight class.

Wilmington is 4-2 overall on the season and they have home meets this week against Lynnfield on Thursday night and then a tri-meet against Shawsheen Tech and Tewksbury on Saturday at 1:30.

Youth wrestlers take a second

by Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

On Sunday afternoon, the Wilmington junior high wrestling team showed off their skills by coming in second place of the Lynnfield Tournament. This was the first tourney for Shane DeMaggio's team. More impressively though, Wilmington only had nine of the 13 weight classes filled, therefore, they missed out on those points. And still they walked away with a second place victory.

"All of the kids wrestled excellent. I was really happy," DeMaggio said. "There are some things we have to work on, but overall all of them did very well."

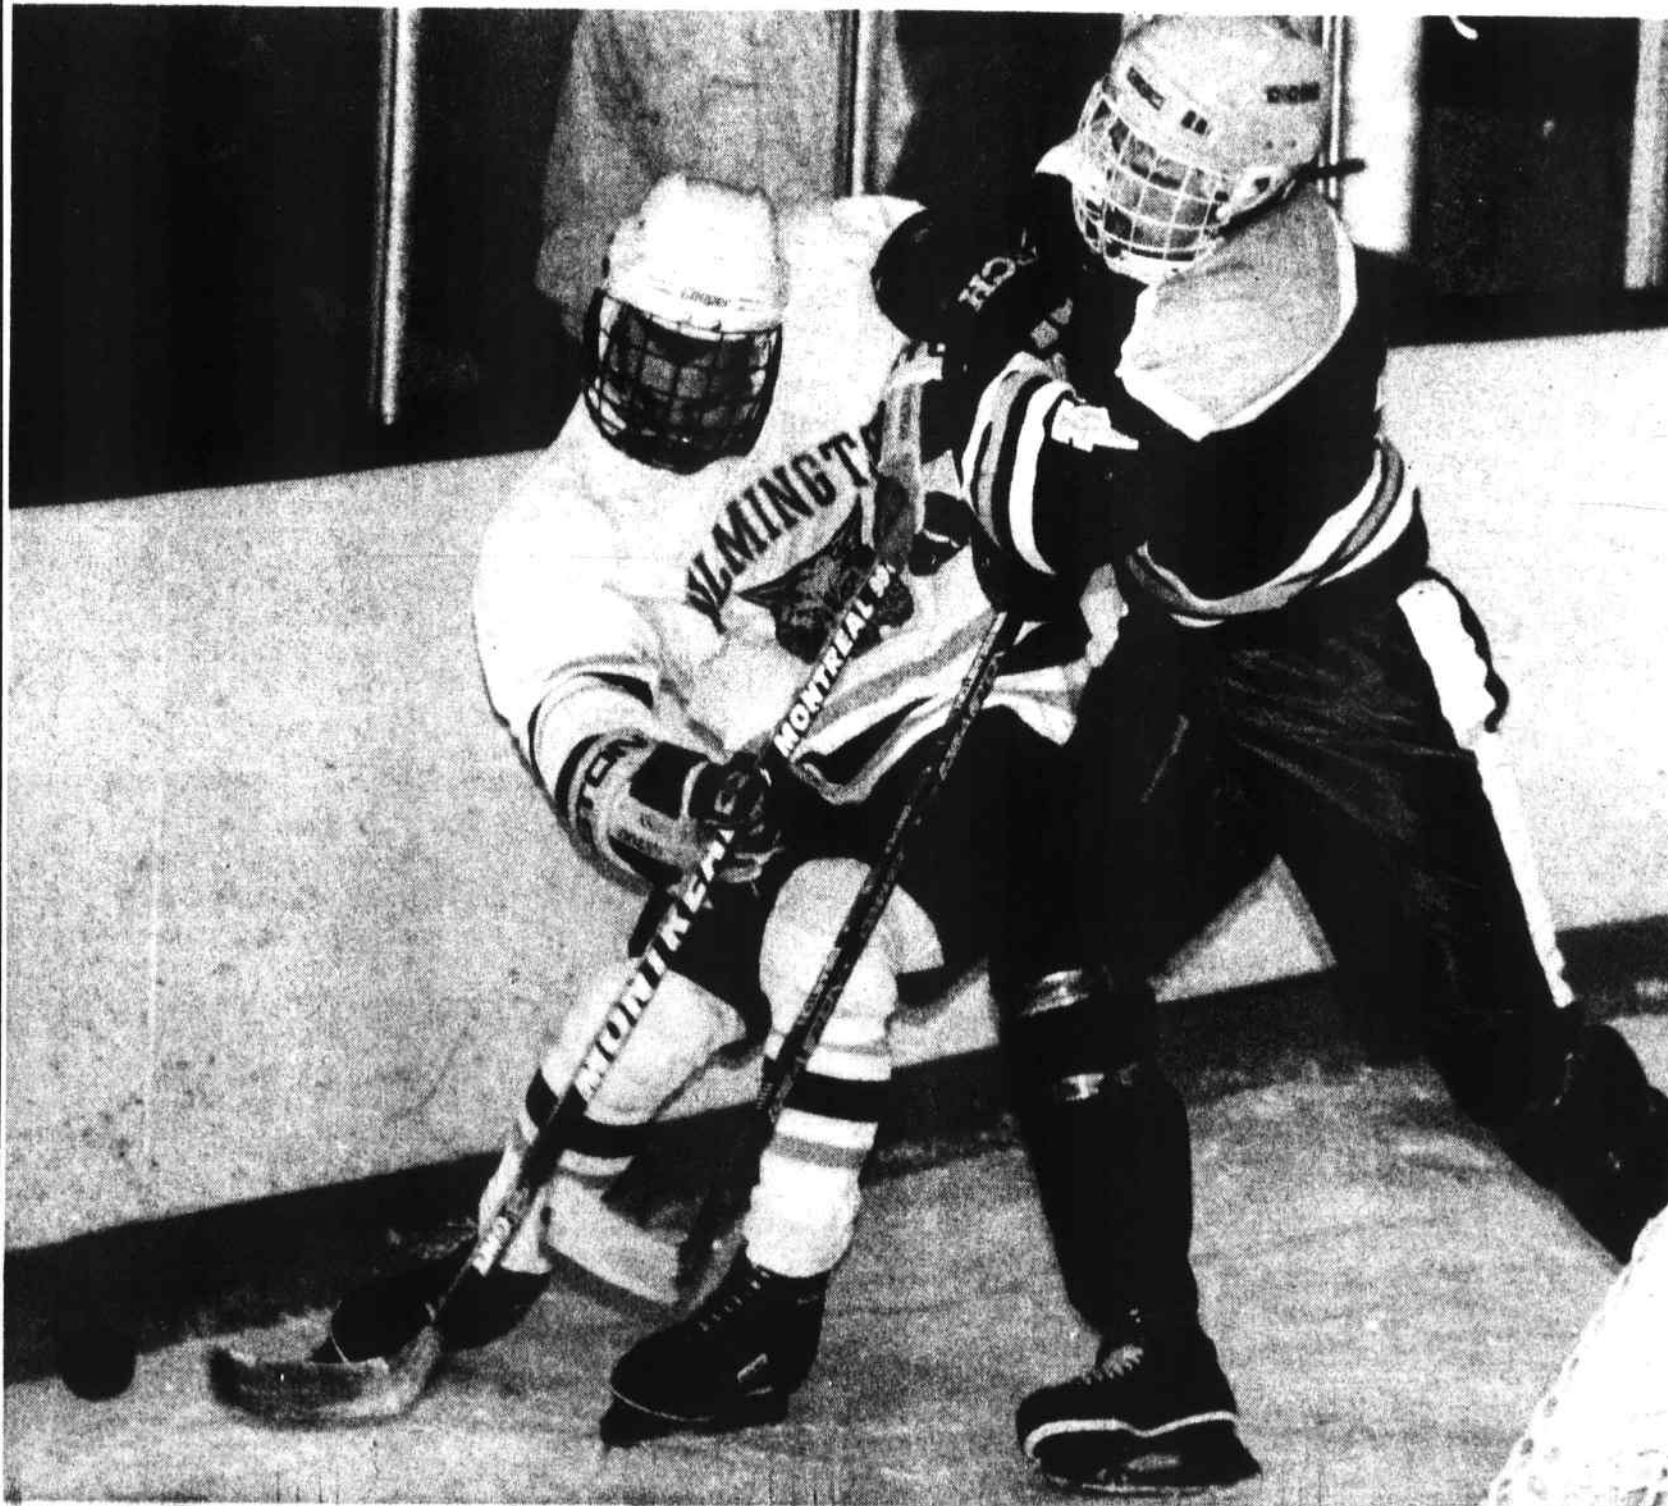

Out of 14 wrestlers (some of them in the same weight class), eight Wildcats placed in the top four of their respective weight class. Two wrestlers came away with first place trophies and they were Derek Hanley at 95 and Ricky Cotto in the 139-pound weight class. No one swiped a second place, but Jason Crawford (132), Aaron Ungvasky (123), Mike Cotto (87) and Matt Langone (75) all took home a third. Jordan Cammarata (113) and Gary Mounsey (82) also did well as they both took home fourth places.

Wilmington also had several other wrestlers do very well even though they didn't place and they were: Chris Winn, Jeff Stokes, Jordan Ungvasky, Jessie Cammarata and the three Brown brothers of Bill, Devin and Shawn.

The team has two more dual meets and another tourney (possibly two if they place in the first one) left to go in the season.

Unbeaten streak ended

Wildcat hockey team takes two steps back

by Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

In three days, the Wilmington High ice hockey team went from having a nine game unbeaten streak to a two game losing streak. And in those two losses, all but one goal came by four players. These two losses definitely hurt, however, there is still a ton of hockey to be played.

"It's a stumbling block, but I don't think there is any reason to panic," said head coach Steve Scanlon of the losses to Newburyport on Saturday and Masconomet on Monday. "We played two very good teams. Masco was 9-2-1 and Newburyport, when healthy, is the best team in the league."

Saturday's 5-1 loss to Newburyport at home was tough to swallow. Wilmington was outplayed in every aspect of the game, and not only did they combine for seven shots in the entire game including one in the first and none in the third, but they couldn't contain the Clippers top line. Due to injuries, Saturday was the first time the big, tough, rugged and all-around terrific trio of Mark Hathaway, Corey Roback and John Simard were together. All the senior line did was account for every point (13) in the victory.

"We were totally outplayed from top to bottom. You can't play soft against a team like that. They are a big, tough team and maybe they are a better club than we are, but they are not better than five goals. We were outplayed in every facet of the game and we weren't interested in the physical game. We didn't even have a shot on net in the entire third period," Scanlon said.

Through the first ten minutes of the game, it was neutral. Most of the game was in neutral ice and both teams had trouble on their respective power plays. Newburyport had two and didn't have a shot on net in either and Wilmington didn't have a shot on net in their one power play chance as well.

With 3:23 left to go in the first period, Newburyport scored the first goal of the game when Roback was uncovered at the right side of the net. As the loose puck lay to the right of a sprawling Mike O'Connor, Roback lifted it top corner for the 1-0 lead.

As the second period started, Wilmington had another power play that was carried over from the first period. They did get one shot on net, but for the most part it was another advantage down the drain. Shortly thereafter, Wilmington had a quick 90 seconds or so with a few chances to tie the game. Junior Mark DiGiovanni came streaking down the left side of the wing into the Clippers end, but his wristler missed wide. Moments later, T.J.

Girls track team one event away from first victory

by Marcella Sweet

In the end, the outcome of last week's girls meet was decided by one race, the 4x400 Relay. After nine of ten events, Wilmington led 41-40. The winner of the Relay would earn five points – and the victory. But, once again, it was not meant to be.

Girls Meet

No. Reading 45, Wilmington 41

Kudos to Rebecca Rufo – the first girl in the history of WHS Track to clear the state-qualifying height of 4'10" in the High Jump. The jump was good for 2nd place, while her time of 6:11(PR) in the Mile took first in that event. Michelle Lemos qualified for States with her 6.8 second, 2nd place finish in the 50 Dash. Other first place finishers were: 300 - Laura Winn (41.8), 600 - Tricia Kane (1:42.6), and 2-Mile - Cheryl Lecsse (13:33), a new PR for her.

Adding to Wilmington's scoring were: 50 Hurdles - Stefanie

Sordillo (2), 50 Dash - Sabrina Shattuck (3), 300 - Lynn Hurley (3), 600 - Robin Diorio (3), 1000 - Barbara Tate (2) and Kristen Bourinot (3), Mile - Sarah Powers (3), 2-Mile - Katelyn Sughrue (3), and Shot Put - Colleen Murphy (2).

Boys Meet

No. Reading 50, Wilmington 35

A first place finish in the 300 for sophomore Eric Veator, (35.5), gives him the best time in the League. Chris Kilburn qualified for States in the 600 with a 2nd place time of 1:23.2, while Greg Monteiro showed off his 'photo finish' style and took first place in the 1000 (2:55.9). Matt Kacamburas won the Mile in 5:03, and the 4x400 Relay team of Jason Crescenzo, Veator, Dan Sweet, and Kilburn won with a time of 3:53.

Also scoring in the meet: 50 Hurdles - Chris Calway (3), 50 Dash - Mike Carr (3), 300 - Sweet (3), 1000 - Arthur Moscufo (3), 2-Mile - Crescenzo (2) and Andy Meyers (3), High Jump - Carr (2), and Shot Put - Brian Mather (3).

State Coaches Invitational Reggie Lewis Center

On Saturday, members of the WHS Boys Track team were entered in events which included some of Massachusetts' top runners. Congratulations to Eric Veator who finished 25/130 in the 300m with a time of 38.41, and Chris Kilburn who finished 42/130 (38.79) in the same event. Matt Kacamburas shaved 2 more seconds off his 2-Mile time, finishing in 10:32.

Wilmington will face No. Andover at Andover H.S. on Wednesday, Jan. 21. A Freshman/Sophomore meet is scheduled at Roxbury's Reggie Lewis Center on Saturday.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday: 9:00 - 5:30 Wednesday: 9:00 - 6:30

Second half surge hurts

Wildcats fall to No. Andover, 65-54

by Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

With four games in the next six days starting Wednesday while this paper is being printed, the Wilmington High boys basketball team now has a chance to start their run. Usually this team begins to play much better in the second half of their season and right now is a perfect time to do just that.

On Sunday afternoon, the Cats fell victim to North Andover, the game that was moved from Friday night because of the snow storm. Wilmington lost the game 65-54 and the loss mainly came because of two reasons: North Andover was a better team on that day; and in a span of seven minutes, NA scored 16 straight points, while, Wilmington put up a big doughnut. That really hurt them.

Now that loss is behind them, and now the Cats have to concentrate on Manchester on Wednesday, Georgetown on Friday, Tewksbury on Sunday and Triton on Tuesday.

"We need to come out and really beat Manchester and Georgetown - we need it," said head coach Jim McCune. "North Andover was a better team than us on Sunday. I've told the kids that everyone should get the glory when things are going well, as well as everyone should get the grief when things don't go their way. Sunday didn't go our way, but this upcoming week is a big chance to turn all of that around."

At the halftime break against NA, the game was noddad at 25. Eric Swiezynski got the second half started on the right foot when he nailed a three-pointer. But from there, it was all NA, as they went on a 16-0 run which made it 41-28. Those 16 points pretty much put the game away as they won it outright 65-54.

"You just can't go that long without scoring," McCune said.

Leading the way for the Cats in the scoring department in the defeat were Dennis Ingram with 13, Scott and Eric Swiezynski with 11 and 10 points, respectively, while, Eric McBride chipped in with eight and Jeff Arciero had seven. Arciero started the game off hot with two three-pointers, however, the kid just can't catch a break when it comes to injuries. A day before the game, he rolled his ankle over in practice and it was obvious in the game how much it was hurting him.

After the home match with Manchester on Wednesday, the Cats will travel to Georgetown on Friday. Then on Sunday, at 3:00, Wilmington will have the task of traveling to old rival Tewksbury in a non-league contest. Tewksbury is led by sophomore superstar guard Roger Brasil, as well as seniors an Stanton and Tim Sullivan - that game should be a dandy. Wilmington will return home on Tuesday against a tough Triton team beginning at 7:30.

Rams hoop team falls for first time

by Mike Burns
Sports Correspondent

The Shawsheen Tech Boys Varsity Basketball teams' undefeated season ended with a dull thud Tuesday afternoon, as the Rams fell to Chelsea, 66-59.

The Ram's never appeared to be in the game, as Chelsea, playing only five players for most of the game and all of the second half, seemed to control the action. Shawsheen's best run came just before the end of the first half, closing to within two points, 28-26.

In the second half, Chelsea dominated the Ram's with good ball movement and outstanding three point shooting. During one stretch, Chelsea hit five consecutive three point shots, all frankly uncontested by the Shawsheen defenders. Despite this scoring burst by Chelsea, the Rams managed to keep the score somewhat close by attacking the basket. However, the Shawsheen defense, not showing the pressing style, was unable to stop Chelsea's offense.

The games leading scorers were Chelsea's Carlos Medina, 25 points, including 3 second half three pointer, and Otis Felder, 17 points, including 4 second half three pointers. Leading Shawsheen was Jim Burke, 22 points, 7 rebounds and 6 steals.

The Ram's next travel to Lynn to face St. Mary's on Friday, at 7:00 PM. Shawsheen's next home game is scheduled for Tuesday evening at 7:00 PM in the Fusco Sports Center with Whitier Tech providing the opposition.

Lady Cats need to get on role for their goal

by Jamie Pote
Sports Editor

In what seems like the nail that sealed the coffin tight, the Wilmington Girls Basketball team's goal of getting to the state tournament might not be attainable this season.

The Cats 58-49 loss to North Andover on Saturday night put their overall record to 3-8. Now with nine games left in the season, Beth Kapnis' team must go 7-2. Perhaps the team can get on a roll as their next stretch of games are not that tough with Manchester, Georgetown, Triton and Pentucket on the schedule, but they still have to face North Andover, Hamilton-Wenham and Masconomet again. They lost to all three of those very good teams.

Against North Andover, the Cats pretty much stayed with the Scarlet Knights for most of the game, but they really couldn't contain Michaela Blaney who netted 25 points. As for the home town team, they were led by senior Karen MacArthur who had 14 points, followed by Meredith Cipriani and Kristin Flynn who both had ten each.

This Friday, January 23rd, the Cats will face Georgetown at home beginning at 7:30, before going on the road for their next three games.

Wilmington Mite C's take on Masconomet in tough battle

The Wilmington Mite C youth hockey team returned to the ice after a two week break in the schedule to take on the Masco B team. An exciting and well played game resulted in a 4-3 win for Wilmington.

The Wilmington defense of Mark Manning, Mike Robarge, George Boudreau, and Timmy Cushing was like a wall, as goalie Gregory Good was able to shut out Masco through two periods.

The C's got on the board in the first minute of the second period, taking advantage of a powerplay. Michael Wilson converted a nice pass from linemate Max Wilkins. Jonathan Kincaid also assisted on the goal. Cory Tobin scored next, unassisted on a nice spin around shot from the slot.

During the third period the game became very exciting as the teams took turn scoring goals. Masco scored first as they ruined Gregory Good's shutout bid early in the third. Michael Wilson then scored his second goal of the game as he executed a nifty wrap around from behind the net with Max Wilkins picking up his second helper for the day.

Following a second Masco strike, Timmy Cushing broke through the entire Masco team and blasted a hard wrist shot by the Masco netminder.

Masco scored one more time to make the score 4-3 with 4:35 left in the game. At this point it became "Katie bar the door" for the C's as they fought back numerous Masco surges. With 20 seconds left in the game, and Masco's goalie pulled or an extra attacker, Gregory Good stoned a Masco breakaway to preserve the victory.

Wilmington Squirt III's blank Concord, 6-0

January 17, the Wilmington Squirt III's played the Concord, N.H. Squirt III team. Play in the first started out pretty intense with both sides getting some chances. As the game got going the Cats played very well with most shots going the Cats' way! Halfway through the period, Mark Pickett broke through to put the Cats up 1-0. Donny Heenan and Albert Fiorenza played superb defense in front of Timmy Anderson, making smart plays up the boards and protecting Timmy when he smothered the puck!

Second period play was the same with the Cats in Concord's end most of the time. Jason Buckley found the net with some great play from Charlie Broussard and Mike Welch. Next up Billy Schultes head manned the puck to Mark who had Dave Griffin as the option. Mark shot the rebound, came out and Billy put it away. Nice play. Eric Svensson and Russell Grant played excellent defense at both ends, especially keeping the puck in, in the offensive zone.

Third period saw more torrid play by the Cats with Nick Yeomelakis getting one with some fantastic forechecking by Justin Roberts and Dan Tobin. Dave Griffin potted his from behind the net, and not much later Dan Tobin put one away to make it 6-0 Wilmington. Concord did have its shots on net, but Timmy Anderson took care of his duties. Timmy, the team, now have about six shutouts! Go Cats!

Wilmington vs. Cambridge II
January 18, an early district playoff game against a tough Cambridge II team played out. The final of the game was the Cats lost a hard fought 1-0 game. Forwards were Mark Pickett, Dave Griffin, Jason Buckley, Nick Yeomelakis, Dan Tobin, Justin Roberts, Charlie Broussard and Mike Welch. The defensive pairings were Albert Fiorenza, Dan Heenan, Russell Grant and Billy Schultes. As usual, Timmy Anderson took care of the goaltending duties.

Play throughout the game was fast and pretty much at both ends of the ice. As the score dictates, both teams fought hard and played very well. Unfortunately, the Cats' demise came from three vital mistakes. First they had four penalties against them, three of the stupid type. This hurt the most because Cambridge scored on the power play. Next was non-passing in critical situations, several passes in certain situations could have changed things. Thirdly, several times the players watched the play instead of playing in the game. This also happened on their only goal.

Overall, not a bad game as the score shows, most of that credit belongs to Timmy Anderson who single handedly kept the Cats within reach. Now back to Valley and Dual State action. Go Cats!

Wilmington vs Burlington III's
January 18, the Dual State Squirt III's took on the Burlington Squirt III's. After a tough early morning loss in the playdowns the players looked as though they were ready for vengeance.

First period saw the Cats come out firing. Billy Schultes started the scoring by trying a pass to Steve Stokes out front. It deflected in as a result. Good positioning. Jason Buckley and Russell Grant played sound defense in our end, but also pinched in to keep the puck in the offensive zone. Late in the period while both sides were changing, Mike Earls grabbed a loose puck and skated in on a breakaway; 2-0 Cats.

The middle period saw the same play, mostly favoring the Cats! Justin Roberts moving down his right side was in great position to knock in a Steve Stokes shot. Dave Griffin put another away with Nick Yeomelakis and Mike Welch helping on the goal. Donny Heenan and Albert Fiorenza played an aggressive defense protecting goalie Timmy Anderson when down and especially fighting to keep the puck in at the other end. Burlington got a late goal, but Mark Pickett got it back with some smart passing from Justin and Dan Tobin.

In the third, play tightened up with Mark getting his second on an unassisted play. Throughout the game Burlington had several chances and naturally good shots on net. As has been of late, Timmy Anderson did his fantastic job in net bringing his goals against average to about 1.6 goals a game. Not bad, Tim.

Wilmington Squirt A's add three more victories to win column

Wilmington's Squirt A Hockey Team, sponsored by Peterson and Peterson, marched on notching three more victories and a tie to add seven points to their 97-98 season total. The Squirts defeated Reading twice and knocked off neighboring rival Tewksbury once, while their second meeting with the Redmen ended in a tie.

The first game with the Reading Rockets was pretty much controlled by the Wildcats throughout, thanks to some great hustle by Mark Giordano, Robbie Peterson, Timmy Aldrich and Kyle Browne, among others. Wildcat goaltender Matt David didn't see that much action, thanks to the puck control offense of forwards Scott Dunnett, Bobby Sinopoli and Eric Ollila.

David did, however make some fine saves and deserved the shutout. When the puck did come into the Wilmington zone, defenders Eric Raposa and Kevin Velardo were right on the play, stopping the Rockets in their tracks. Michael McMahon had an awesome game on "D" for the Cats, making some key stops to prevent several odd man rushes.

Scoring in this 7-0 blowout were Edzo Tucker, Bobby Sinopoli, Timmy Aldrich (two), Jackie Rideout, Kyle Browne and Eric Ollila. Picking up key assists were Kyle Browne, Mark

Giordano, as well as Eric Ollila and Edzo Tucker who executed a nice "give and go" play to set up Jackie Rideout's goal.

The second game with Reading, unfortunately for the Rockets, was more of the same with Wilmington running away with this one 10-1. Once again netminder Matt David did his best "brick wall" imitation, allowing only one goal. Wildcat winger Kyle Browne had a super game, notching three goals for the hat trick. Browne's linemates Bobby Sinopoli and Edzo Tucker also had a stellar day with one goal for Sinopoli and two for Tucker. Kevin Velardo, Michael McMahon, Eric Raposa and Robbie Peterson all played another tough defensive game, leaving Reading little breathing room. Also scoring in this game were Scott Dunnett, Mark Giordano, Eric Ollila and Timmy Aldrich. Ollila and Giordano combined on a couple of nifty passes to set up Aldrich's goal.

The Cats' next game pitted them against a much tougher team from Tewksbury and this very close game resulted in a 3-3 tie. Scrappy Wilmington forward Mark Giordano started the scoring halfway through the first period, but the Redmen came right back and scored only three minutes later. Halfway through the second period Giordano scored again, this time on a swift wrap-around move from behind the net. Wilmington's Kyle Browne grabbed a Bobby Sinopoli pass and dashed the length of the ice to give the Cats what seemed to be a comfortable two goal lead. Tewksbury had plenty of scoring opportunities, but Wildcat goalie Matt David was looking sharp as a tack and turned away all comers until the Redmen finally slapped one in at the end of the period, making the score 3-2.

The Tewksbury forwards struck again right at the start of the final period to tie the game a three apiece. Wildcat Eric Raposa and his fellow defencemen stepped up their efforts and successfully kept the Redmen at bay for the balance of the game.

The next day the Wildcats had to play Tewksbury again and the teams picked up right where they left off; playing some great hockey. Fortunately for the home team, Wilmington came away with the 5-4 victory this time, but it was an extremely close and exciting contest. Tewksbury jumped out to an early 2-0 lead, but Wildcat forward Kyle Browne's nice pass to Edzo Tucker and Tucker's great shot put Wilmington back in the game. When Jackie Rideout popped in the rebound of a bullet shot by Scott Dunnett the score was even. Thanks to some outstanding goaltending by Wilmington's Matt David and super hustle by defenseman Kevin Velardo and his defensive corps "mates," there was no scoring in the second period.

The Wildcats seized the lead for the first time at the start of the third period when Scott Dunnett made a sweet pass from behind the net to Eric Ollila, who swatted it in from in front of the crease, despite being hammered by two defenders. But the Redmen did not let down and came back to tie the game again only a minute later. Then with eight minutes left to play it was Eric Ollila once again from his spot in front of the crease who gave Wilmington the 4-3 lead. The excitement continued to increase as Tewksbury came back to score during a 4-on-4 shift to tie the game yet again.

It looked as though we were due to witness another tie until Wilmington's Timmy Aldrich snatched a Zack Wilkins pass and flew down the lane and fired a brilliant shot off the far post to make it 5-4. The whole team now pulled together and played some great defense to earn the win, especially the defensive squad of Robbie Peterson, Eric Raposa, Kevin Velardo and Micheal McMahon, and of course the gifted glove hand of Matt David.

Wilmington Mite A's lose tough one

The Wilmington Mite A Team, sponsored by First Electric Motor, lost a nail biter to Winchester by the score of 5-4. Both teams battled tough as they are now tied for the number two spot in Dual State, both with 5-3-1 records.

The Wildcats had some good pressure in the first by forwards Danny Silva and Dana Steenbruggen as they swarmed the net. It was the Sachems though who got on the board first halfway through the period. The Wildcats scored on the following faceoff when Chris Stafford threaded a pass through center ice to Mike Fay. As he streaked up the ice with Derek Fitzpatrick, Fay shot it in far side. Zachary Church got a nice rush started feeding the puck to Shane Foley behind his own net, as Foley went end to end for the score. Fitzpatrick closed out the scoring in the first when Mike Emery put a centering pass on his stick firing it through the wickets.

In the second, defensemen Derek DeRosa and Derek Griffin played their usual fine job in front of Mark Walsh who made many good saves between the pipes for Wilmington. Winchester did score on a clean breakaway to make it 3-2 as Walsh made the original stop. The Wildcats did go back up by two when Fitzpatrick sent Foley in, scoring while shorthanded. Walsh continued to frustrate the Sachems tying the puck up whenever it came near the crease.

In the third the Wildcats continued the offense as Dave Rizzo and Danny Metcalfe just kept buzzing the net. The Sachems did score halfway through the period, with the tying goal coming with four minutes left to the game. Walsh came up with a big, big stop to keep it tied at four. Winchester did get the go-ahead goal with 12 seconds left just squeaking it by.

Wilmington hockey

Flynn sent a quick wrister himself from the face-off to the left of goaltender Adam Cooper, and the shot was caught in Cooper's chest.

Newburyport then started to click. Hathaway was sent in on a 1-on-1 against senior defenseman Mike Berian and although Berian did a nice job of keeping the star to the outside, Hathaway still was able to get two quick shots on O'Connor as he did so with a trip around the net. About 30 seconds after that, Hathaway struck for the second Clipper goal as he put in a quick snapper just inside the post off a rebound about ten feet in front of the net with 11:53 left to go.

For the next eight minutes or so, both teams had their chances to score. Wilmington's best two chances came when Berian went end-to-end and his wrister was saved as was DiGiovanni's from the top right circle. Newburyport's best chance came on a 5-on-3 power play as two big shots were covered up by O'Connor.

Wilmington went on a power play with 3:38 left to go in the second period and still trailing 2-0. Wilmington was working the puck around the Clipper zone pretty well, actually really well compared to their other three chances. Justin Vallas had the puck at the left boards, just a few feet in front of the blue line. As he cut across, he sent a weak shot onto the net and the puck bounced off a skate and went onto the stick of Berian who was moving in from the left point. Berian, picked up his head, and sent a nice and low hard shot to the far side for his eighth goal of the season.

"When we made it 2-1, we were certainly back in the game," Scanlon said. "Then we had to give up a late goal because we didn't want to backcheck and that really hurt us."

Indeed it did. Twenty-five seconds after Wilmington cut the lead in half, Newburyport took their two-goal lead back when a loose puck at the side of the net quickly found the back of the net by Roback.

In the third period, two terrible defensive coverages in the Cats zone led Newburyport to two more goals and that ended the dreadful game at 5-1. Wilmington didn't show up at either end in that third period as they didn't have a shot on net, not to mention displaying awful team defense.

Against Masco, Wilmington had leads of 1-0 and 2-1 before Masco scored three unanswered goals to make it 5-2. Wilmington got one before the second period ended and as the third period started things looked better for the Cats as they had a power play, but Masco scored a short-handed goal and that put the finishing touches away.

Dan Torpey notched two goals for the Cats and Justin Vallas had the other in the losing cause. But as always against Masco, a LeColst struck, and this time it was Andy as he registered three goals and two assists for Masconomet.

"For the first time this season, Mike O'Connor didn't have a good day in the net," said Scanlon of the game. "But really it wasn't his fault. He is playing better than I've ever thought he would. We didn't have Mark DiGiovanni and that hurt because we would have had him shadow LeColst. So instead we had Kevin Carroll do it and for the most part he did a good job. One goal [LeColst] got was a wrap around, another was a power play goal and the third one he beat Kevin. Overall Kevin did a pretty good job."

"We outshot them 35-23 and I thought we outthrust them. But the goal at the start of the third period was the knife in the heart. At the start of the season you would say that is a sign of a young team."

but at this point of the season you have to be concerned. It's frustrating to see that," Scanlon continued.

So in the two games, the Newburyport first line struck for five goals and eight assists, while, LeColst had three goals and two assists. Granted those four players are four of the top players in the league, but in order to get back on the winning track, the Cats can't afford the better players to dominate against such a solid defensive crew.

Wilmington has a few days off now and they will return to action on Saturday afternoon at home against Hamilton-Wenham. The next three games are very important for the Cats to come away with victories as their February schedule is extremely tough. With H/W, Dracut and Amesbury to end this month, Wilmington will face Masconomet, Triton, Newburyport, Tewksbury, Methuen and Durfee to round out the season (they will have another game in the second round of the Newburyport Tourney).

With their 6-3-3 overall record, Wilmington needs seven more points to get into the state tournament for the fourth straight season. So needless to say, these next three games are very important.

Wildcat sixth grade hoop team

The white hot Wilmington Boys Sixth grade Basketball team notched two more wins this week to improve to a 7-5 record in the Merrimack Valley League. After a slow 1-4 start on the road, the Wildcats have put together an impressive 6-1 run.

On Wednesday, January 14, they traveled to the Daley Middle School in Lowell to take on the Highlanders. In a rematch of a game played earlier in the week, Wilmington used a strong floor game from Kevin Pizzotti and Andy Bamberg and Mike Cavallaro's rebounding to forge an 18-13 half time lead.

In the second half, the Cats' Dave DeMango took over the game. He pulled down 11 rebounds and scored 12 points in the half for a rare "double double." This fueled Wilmington to a 43-23 victory. Leading scorers were Demango with 12, and Zach Mitzan and Mike Kelley with six each. Demango led all rebounders with 11, while Mitzan pulled in six and Dennis Robillard ripped away five.

The next night, in snowy Haverhill, the Cats took on the Hillies. Wilmington used its speed and size to take a 21-13 halftime lead. Dan Hurley's defense and five rebounds by Zach Mitzan played a big role in keeping the home team off balance.

In the second half, Wilmington's big men dominated the boards as the Cats cruised home with a 42-23 victory. Leading rebounders for Wilmington were Mitzan and Mike Gore with six and Mike Cavallaro with five. Gore took home high scoring honors with 12 points, with Mike Kelly adding 11 and Derek Trueira netting six.

A few final thoughts before departure to Europe

By ED LARKIN

Although left for service in Europe, I had some time to put together some information and one more outdoor trip before I got out of town. I took some days off from work to take care of personal matters and spend some time with my wife.

The mountain of details slowly fell into place and we found time to make a trip to a friend's cabin in New Hampshire. While the white stuff whipped through Wilmington, we worked our way up some beautiful ridge lines.

In the early morning, I bashed out a couple of holes and inserted a couple of tip-ups and waited for a strike. While we waited for the fish, I split wood and we both enjoyed the peaceful, cold splendor.

It is times like these that I realize how really lucky I am. My wonderful wife has always understood my need to participate in the military. My call to duty is harder for her than it is for me. Our time together is one of the best things about my life.

Preliminary Tallies from the Division of Fisheries & Wildlife

The year of 1997 proved to be a lot more productive than 1996. Deer hunters, according to a telephone survey, took 7,482 deer. The total number of bucks was 4,044 and does 3,438. Due to a hardy food supply, the deer population was in excellent condition. These are just the preliminary totals, actual totals should be higher.

A total of 78 bear were taken during the 1997 season. That is a bit higher than the 56 taken in 1996. An interesting note, 13 of the bears were taken with bow. Of the bears taken, 35 were males and 43 were females.

The Division of Fisheries & Wildlife is in the process of stocking 1,700 broodstock Atlantic Salmon. The fish range in weight from 2 to 18 pounds, with an average between 7 and 8 pounds. The fish will be stocked in lakes and ponds across the Commonwealth. For more information, call the DFW.

Application forms are now available for the 1998 Junior Duck Program. Student's entries must be received by March 15, 1998. The Massachusetts Junior Duck Program provides instructional material for teachers who wish to help students to observe the beauty of waterfowl and to learn more about wildlife.

The DFW is running its Becoming an Outdoorswomen program again. The Division will host a series of one day workshops through the spring of 1998 and a three day Outdoorswomen weekend in August of 1998. For information on any of these programs, call the DFW at 508-792-7270.

CLIP & SAVE

The Tewksbury Rod & Gun Club is offering a Personal Protection Course on January 24-25. The course fee is $100 (includes coffee, donuts, and Saturday lunch). For more information, contact George Rost 851-6286 or Debbie Lumsden 658-3569.

Don't forget the annual Game supper at the club. Dinner will be served at 7 PM on January 31. Tickets are $10 per person. For more information contact Bernadette at 978-851-0959 or Carol Burke at 978-657-7850.

In March, the club will sponsor the Spring Hunter Education Course. Contact the club for dates and times at 978-851-9208. Hey George, I am still waiting for my patch from the Fall Hunter Education Course! Please keep the information coming. Stu & Frank promise to keep me in touch with the local news.

Wildcats eighth grade hoop

Wilmington's eighth grade hoop team played a ton of basketball this past weekend at the "January Jam" Tournament in Lawrence. Twenty-eight teams converged on the city to show their wares.

Wilmington's first game was against Windham, N.H. and the big man Jon Emerson (23 points). Windham dominated the first half behind Emerson who had his team's first 12 points and used the Wildcats' game jerseys to buff his airwalks to a high gloss shine. Atrocious shooting echoed disaster for the Bit Q as shot after shot clanged the back of the iron. Windham led 23-14 at the break. A halftime does of fire and brimstone from Coach Tony DeLucia wiped the sleep from the eyes of the drowsy Wildcats as they took the floor growling. George Godding and Kyle Hendricks combined for 22 second half points as David Aronofsky again played "locked down" defense to secure the 44-33 win.

Next up was St. Joseph's in a Saturday matinee win that was not as close as the 30-20 score would imply. Warren Cormier (four points) played aggressively at both ends and got help from Pranav Vaidya and Chris McHale.

The most exciting game of the tourney occurred on Sunday versus Hampstead, N.H. This contest belonged to George Godding (10 points) who was simply spectacular. He had plenty of assistance from fellow "big guys" Hendricks, McHale and Ryan Graham (four points). Mark Krasnyansky wowed the crowd with a beautiful twisting, turning drive to the hole. Things looked good at halftime for the "men in blue" with a lead of 17-14.

The game turned ugly in the second half in the most inconsistently officiated contest ever witnessed by this sports correspondent. The zebras brought their whistles and used them to the detriment of the Wildcats even as score keeper Jim Rappoli was being treated for writer's cramp.

With the score tied at 29 apiece at the end of regulation, the game ended on a controversial non call on a Wilmington player in the act of shooting. As war continued into the overtime period baskets were traded and with the score deadlocked at 34 each, fate struck again. As the buzzer sounded, a Wilmington defender was called for an "all ball" foul on a Hampstead player allegedly in the act of shooting. As Wilington players and fans watched in disbelief, a game that was their's ended as the foul shot swished through the twine.

Facing either elimination or a shot at the championship, the Wildcats were sent back downstairs to play Acton / Boxborough who was also defeated at the buzzer by Hampstead. Hendricks and Rappoli combined for 27 in this slugfest that saw some awesome hustle by Mike Herra and a late first half three pointer from Mark Stewart to spark a come-from-behind rally. Ice water flowed through the veins of David Rappoli as he hit a pair of late game free throws to preserve the win. The Cats emerged from the "dungeon" to face Hampstead again for the tournament.

The championship game was anticlimactic, however as the team had exhausted itself and quickly fell behind 20-8 at the half. The game ended with a final score of 32-25 as the players received the runner up trophies and left with the satisfaction of having played a great tournament.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH MUSEUM LOCATED at the Tewksbury State Hospital is the only museum of its kind in this country. Here Dr. Merle Mudd, Ph.D., President of the Board of Directors, is seen reviewing some of the documents available for viewing at this unique 4 year old museum.

Tewksbury has...

United States only Public Health Museum

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

As you drive up to the Public Health Museum in Massachusetts the shadows of the light can give you a sense of the foreboding that the former Administration Building for the Tewksbury State Hospital and Infirmary gave to many of the people it served.

Ironically part of the treatment for many of the people that came to the institution was a lot of fresh air and sunshine which they received in the wards situated on the sunny hillside of the campus. A campus that once contained 59 buildings connected by an outside wall and underground tunnels.

The four year old museum is housed in the first floor space that was once the administration suite of the old hospital. To step into the front entrance is to get a feeling of stepping back into history.

Dr. Merle Mudd, Ph.D., president of the Board of Directors for the Museum notes that, according to John Parascondola, the historian for the National Public Health Service it is the only public health museum in the country. Because of this, it might play an important part in this years planned anniversary celebrations of the National Public Health Service and the founding of the former Marine Hospital that was originally situated in Boston Harbor before being moved to Chelsea and eventually to Brighton.

However, the Museum is situated in Tewksbury because of the unique history of the campus, still in operation as a state hospital for chronic disease and mental health and mental retardation victims.

Mudd noted that the hospital came about in 1854 as a result of a state action in 1850. At that time the state came to the realization that the effects of the industrial revolution were starting to be felt and communities could no longer take care of poor people with their inherent health problems. As a result of that action three almshouses were authorized and Tewksbury, built in 1854 became the main one.

"It took the broadest variety of people," Mudd said.

One of the other three focused on children.

The set of wooden buildings that made up Tewksbury Almshouse at that time were built to handle 500 people. The doors opened on May 1 and by the end of the first week the population reached 668.

The records show that by May 20 the hospital had a census of 800 patients.

As the hospital kept growing to house the patients it kept developing more programs for their care. These included facilities for the care of venereal disease, tuberculosis, mental health and chronic arthritis.

As Mudd explained other hospitals in the state took people that could be treated and eventually discharged.

"Tewksbury got the chronically ill and even the criminally insane," he explained.

In 1900 the Almshouse was renamed the Tewksbury State Hospital and then renamed again in 1909 to become the Massachusetts State Infirmary. In 1938, another name change created the Tewksbury State Hospital and Infirmary.

It was in the early 1900's that many young women, some from the best families in Boston were sent to the hospital to bear children conceived out of wedlock.

Records that have been recovered by Museum volunteers show stories of such women. One such story on file is about a young woman from New Bedford, originally from Virginia, who was being treated for "enciente" a French word for pregnancy.

Another record shows a 34-year-old patient who was admitted and listed as being "insane."

According to the same set of records an 83 year-old woman from Lowell was "used-up," and another patient as being "discharged by death."

One of the most famous patients in the former Almshouse was the subject of the movie "The Miracle Worker." Anne Mansfield Sullivan, who was blind, came to the Almshouse in 1876.

She was accompanied by her

ANTHONY MANCONI

Bill Masiello, an Optician made a spectacle of himself at the New Year's Eve party.

I don't know about progress in education. It seems to me we've gone from Little Red Schoolhouses, to Little Red School Books.

I remember when Bob Burns ran a contest every fall to see who grew the biggest potato. The winner got $10. When the contest was over, Bobby put away a winter's supply of potatoes at a bargain, 300 pounds of potatoes for $10.

Young Ryan Powers was sent to the store by his mother Louise to buy a box of diapers. The clerk said, "here you go young man, that'll be $2.00 plus tax." "You can keep the tax, my mother uses Pins."

George Guyette, a gentleman farmer, had a wife who always complained about living on a farm. His two boys and three girls despised it too. So George put up a sign on the front gate that said, "The Belly Acres Farm!"

Missy Palladino said, "Chipper, everyone at the office had a busy day. The computers broke down and everyone had to Think!"

Dennis Tully took his girl friend to dinner. She studied the menu a bit then said, "I'll have a double shrimp cocktail, onion soup, lobster, baked potato, a tossed salad with blue cheese dressing and apple pie a la mode." She then turned to Dennis and asked, "what do you suggest I have to drink dear?" Dennis felt his wallet shrink in size a bit then said, "how about one of the Great Lakes?"

My Aunt Nora was about to leave a doctor's office, she turned and gave the doc a quizzical glance. "Is there something the matter?" the doctor asked. "I'm not sure," my aunt Nora replied, "I arrived five minutes early for my appointment. You took me right away."

You spent a lot of time with me. I understood every word of your instructions. I can even read your prescription. Are you a Real doctor?"

A farmer in the Deep South was introducing his family to the governor who was touring the state. "Seventeen boys. I suppose they're all good Democrats?" the governor asked. "All but one," the farmer replied, "He's the only one who can read."

Songs for the heart at Linden Tree

On Saturday February 7th, the Linden Tree Coffeehouse will hold a special romantic and cometic pre-Valentine concert. Returning to Wakefield with new songs for and from the heart will be Linden Tree favorites: MacIsaac & Ross and Bernice Lewis.

From the first time Kevin MacIsaac and Debbie Ross began singing together at the suggestion of a mutual friend, their voices seemed made to be joined together. They easily have the most beautiful voices in the New England folk community. Their renditions of traditional folk songs such as The Bramble and the Ross as well as modern classics like Bob Franke's Beggars to God began to get them attention in the Boston area.

Their first album in 1994 Silken Threads has been recently joined by their second entitled Believin'. This recording contains eleven original songs that explore both the darker and the more hopeful side of relationships. Besides their uniquely beautiful voices, their on stage banter is often very funny, reflecting the affectionate humor that is characteristic of their lives together.

A fixture on the coffeehouse circuit, contemporary folk-radio, and at the major festivals.

Bernice Lewis

Bernice Lewis is someone worth hearing again and again. Her songs, each different, are well-thought out messages, each a labor of love. She was a finalist in the 1987 New Folk Songwriting Contest at the prestigious Kerrville (Texas) Folk Festival. Her tales highlight the victories and defeats of everyday life. Lake clear is her truly remarkable voice. Accompanying herself on a six-string guitar and presenting her ideas with a unique, spontaneous, and always personable stage presence, Bernice Lewis shows why this rising star will soon shoot out of this galaxy. Selections from her

CDs Open Lines and Signals and her newest release Isle of Spirit can be heard on folk-radio coast to coast.

This show, that will be great from beginning to end, will begin at 8pm with a surprise guest or two. The strength of this double bill of great song-writing, singing, and funny stories will make this a not-to-be-missed evening at The Linden Tree.

Tickets for this concert will be $8, available on show night, at The Linden Tree Coffeehouse at The Unitarian-Universalist Church, 326 Main Street, Wakefield. Take some time off to treat yourselves to music and to meet some talented folks, their CDs would make great Valentine Gifts. ### At Reading Library

Anne Franciose Perrault piano concert

The Friends of the Reading Public Library are pleased to announce pianist and teacher, Anne Franciose Perrault in concert at the Reading Public Library, 64 Middlesex Avenue, on Saturday, January 24th at 8pm, (snow date: Jan. 31st). The program entitled "The Poetic Chopin" will consist of several preludes, nocturnes, ballad's, polonaises, mazurka, and the Grande Valse Brillante.

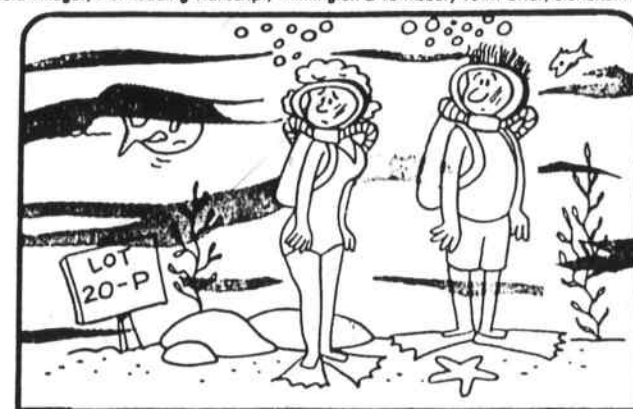

Ms. Perrault is well known to Boston audiences, having appeared as soloist, chamber music pianist, and accompanist both here and in Europe. She has given concerts at Jordan Hall, Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum, Longy School, Boston University, Tufts University, Museum of Our National Heritage, and First & Second Church where she performed Beethoven's Concerto #1 with the New England Philharmonic.

Locally, she has taught at New England Conservatory's Preparatory Division and is presently the Chair of the Piano Department at the Longy School of Music in Cambridge. In addition to giving master classes, Ms. Perrault teaches privately and her students have become State, Regional and National Competition winners.

This program is free and open to the public (Handicap Accessible.)

This concert is sponsored by the Friends of the Reading Public Library and is supported, in part, by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, as administered by the Reading Arts Council. The Concert is free of charge, handicap accessible and open to the public

Recycle/Resource Center open Sundays

Beginning on Superbowl Sunday, January 25, the Community Recycle/Resource Center will be open from 10 am to 2 pm.

NCECP is very pleased to announce the continuation of the Kids Art '98 Program at the CRC.

Thanks to another grant from the Stoneham Business and Community Educational Foundation, the Sunday "Artist-in-Residence" will provide in-house, hands-on artistic instruction in the uses of recycled materials to create innovative projects and crafts.

In addition to the "Funday" hours, the CRC will continue to be open to the public every Tuesday from noon to 4 pm. For a $3 donation on either day, kids and adults can fill a shopping bag with fun and diverse clean, non-toxic recyclable materials for use in environmental education, children's arts and crafts activities, science projects and more.

Don't forget, NCECP will always be thrilled to accept donations of cans and bottles at any time. Consider contributing those holiday and Superbowl party

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Of people, places and things

Looking back in Wakefield

"The family and friends of well-known artist Bill Velmore have established an accumulating scholarship fund with CSF of Wakefield in his memory," notes the Wakefield edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Velmore died suddenly this fall. This fund was established to continue his educational efforts.

"When the Bill Velmore Scholarship Fund reaches permanency, a scholarship in his memory will be awarded each year. The fund will have a preference for an eligible student who is pursuing a career in art.

"Velmore was raised and attended public school in Wakefield (WHS 1963). As a young man, he loved to draw alligators; later in life he traveled to see them.

"A graduate of the Art Institute of Boston (1967), he also received an honorary degree in 1995. He worked as a Graphic Design Supervisor for Honeywell using his extensive experience in illustration and commercial art.

"Velmore instructed drawing from nature at Harvard University Museum of Comparative Zoology and Art for Greater Boston Academy. He also instructed U.S. Air Force and Navy personnel in Graphic Arts, the Bedford Arts and Crafts Society in drawing and painting, and Wakefield's Adult Education program in art.

"Velmore opened his first studio in 1967, with his most recent studio located at 255 North Avenue in Wakefield. His award winning paintings, done in watercolor or acrylic, of wildlife, nature and scenic New England have been shown in many museums and fine art galleries...."

Springing ahead in Lynnfield

"Conservation Commission member Peter Ca'eshu who is spearheading the open space project, told the Selectmen the plan should be completed this spring," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"Thirty-four percent of Lynnfield's households responded to a recent survey as part of the project which will be incorporated into the town's new master plan.

"Ca'eshu stated the open space plan consisted of four elements: community setting, growth and development patterns, an inventory of open space, and action items and goals and objectives.

"Barbara Drozek of the Historical Commission is in charge of the community setting section which will include a broad view of the town regarding its history, characteristics and how Lynnfield interacts as a community with the area and county.

"Tufts University graduate student intern Beth Brasille is coordinating the growth and development section which is the most technical and complex portion of the report and will include mapping and an analysis of Lynnfield's environmental inventory and cultural resources.

"Assessor Dick Simmons is in charge of putting together a complete inventory and data base of Lynnfield's land...."

Public Health Museum

eight year-old brother, who would die there of Consumption (Tuberculosis). In 1880 Sullivan approached the Board of Visitors and was able to attain her own release.

She attended the Perkins Institute for the Blind and upon graduation was hired to become Helen Keller's tutor.

A building still standing on the campus today is named the Anne Mansfield Sullivan Building.

At present several pictures and records, as well as antique furniture used at Tewksbury or Lakeville are on display. As Mudd notes it is a mixed bag of displays. However, they are set out in an orderly fashion and present an interesting picture of what life was like at the facility in the late nineteenth and early twentieth century.

Mudd said that the Museum's Board has been advised to have the pictures sent to the state archives for preservation and then display copies of them at the Museum.

He added, "The museum is not emphasizing the collection of materials. We are only collecting around themes that people are interested in."

The idea for the Museum came out of the one hundredth anniversary of the Massachusetts Public Health Association in 1990.

Present Museum Board member Chester Kennedy had been a public relations person for the Department of Public Health and had his eye on trying to save the then 100 year-old Queen Anne style administration building at Tewksbury for the previous 20 years.

Through his efforts and those of others that became involved the building was placed on the National Register of Historic Buildings. A subsequent grant award allowed the Museum to renovate one half of the building and the state's Department of Mental Retardation took over and renovated the rest of the building.

Another boon to the Museum was the addition of former hospital superintendent, Thomas Saunders and former chief of nurses, Marjorie McDermott to the Board of Directors.

As you enter the Museum, you come across a display of what the reception area looked like (although it was across the hall) including an antique telephone switchboard.

Next is a display case of material provided by the American Tuberculosis Society that includes anti smoking materials. One of these materials is a letter from Thomas Alva Edison to Henry Ford.

Edison writes in the letter that he would never hire a person that smokes cigarettes. It was his contention that poisons in the paper caused sickness. This was in 1914.

Also present in the case is an award signed by President Theodore Roosevelt to the Hospital for its work in the treatment of Tuberculosis.

In the actual Superintendent's office is a large desk that was built at the former Lakeville Hospital and belonged to the superintendent of that facility.

Many pictures of the Tewksbury facility are on display in this office as are anti-smoking campaigns from the early 20th century. Other items on display are the written records of many patients and patent medicine bottles that held what were thought to be sure cures for the sicknesses of the time.

The bottles were collected and catalogued by Board member Dr. Jack Bloom D.D.S.

Another room has been set aside as a display of a nursing school classroom as it may have appeared in the 1930's. Also displayed close by is an examination room as it was outfitted in the early part of the century.

A lot of work has been done by an all volunteer army of people to get the museum into its present status. However, Mudd said the goal now is to get a part-time staff person to develop programs for the Museum.

As to why the need for the Museum, one release states:

"First, a public health museum can provide New England residents and visitors with an explanation of how public health evolved (from the time Paul Revere was named as the first director of Health in Massachusetts) in the area and the nation. It is important to know how and why we arrived at our present moment in history...

"For the second reason, refer to health documents and plans like "Healthy People 2000." In order to improve public health there is a continuing need to emphasize citizen and community education in order to encourage the social and life-style changes that will reduce unnecessary disease, injury and disability. Today the problems of AIDS, teen pregnancies, violence and drugs present new challenges that must be met."

note the year that it was propagated.

Since 1983, ERI has propagated over 250,000 American Liberty elms and distributed them to individuals and communities across the United States. Because the tree is unique, ERI wants the permanent tag to distinguish it from hybrid's and wild elms.

The American Liberty elm is the product of over 50 years of university research selection, breeding and field testing. "This is the only new elm that is a direct descendant of American Elms that comes with a warranty against Dutch elm disease," says John Hansel, Executive director of the nonprofit institute. "It has the classic shape of the old American elms that once shaded so many streets and lawns in this country."

ERI's goal is to see one million American Liberty elms planted by the turn of the century. Batches of 100 or more are RAISED IN COMMUNITY 'JOHNNY' ELMSEED REGIONAL NURSERIES' tended by Boy Scout troops and other nonprofit volunteer groups. The fast-growing trees are transplanted to permanent locations at public places such as libraries, historical sites, city halls, colleges, golf courses and schools.

American Liberty elms are available only through Elm

Research Institute and its volunteer nonprofit members. They are not available in commercial nurseries.

If you're an owner or know of American Liberty elms in your community, contact Elm Research Institute, Elm St., Westmoreland, NH 03467-9985, or you may call 1-800-FOR ELMS, or visit our website at www.forelms.org.

Towns From S-3

$100,000 grant to assist with reconstruction of the Francis Wyman House," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The house, built in 1666, suffered severe structural damage in a Nov. 26, 1996 fire. The Francis Wyman Association owns the house, which is the oldest in town and one of the oldest in the state.

"At the January 1997 Town Meeting, representatives approved $10,000 for architectural services with regard to renovating the house.

"That allocation of funds was contingent upon an agreement, since reached, between the town and the association on terms and conditions of public access to the site.

"The house, located at 56 Francis Wyman Road, has been boarded up and secured.

"At the time of the fire, the house was being rented out as a residence. Donald Ray, treasurer of the Francis Wyman Association, has since stated that the house will no longer be used in that manner.

"The grant was among 72 awarded as part of the Massachusetts Preservation Projects Fund. It is a matching grant for up to 50 percent of the cost of a project.

"The state funding represents a major step forward in restoring the structure.

"It's very good news," said Town Administrator David Owen.

"He said plans for construction are due to be drafted in early spring. The goal is to have the house completely restored

What's news?

A 'Jewell' of an award in Reading

"The Parker Middle School has been awarded the statewide Massachusetts Library Media Association Award for Video News, while a math team at the school recently took first place in a divisional meet," notes the Reading edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The Library Media Association Award came in the middle school video productions category. Students worked last year with Mimi Fannon and continued the work this year with Jennifer Jewell, where they handle every aspect of production.

"A news program is distributed throughout the school as a result of the project every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. The students run all the equipment, serve at the anchor desk and also serve as news directors behind the cameras.

"Two Reading students, Ryan Twomey and Jack MacAleer accompanied Jennifer Jewell to the awards presentation.

"The Parker math team, under the direction of Bob Ohlson, took first place in its division during a recent meet."

A 'Wynn'ing team in Tewksbury

"The Wynn Middle School Math team got off to a terrific start at its first meet of the year," notes the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"The Wynn School was first in its division with a score of 108 points, followed by Lynn-Pickering with 80 points; Manchester-by-the-Sea, 78 points; Rockport, 78 points; Lynnfield, 72 points; and Danvers-Dunn, 44 points.

"The team accepted blue ribbons for scoring first and is hoping to stay on top for the entire year and win a plaque as top team in the division.

"The League announced that Shaw Liu, Ryan Duffy, Lindsay Donnelly and Heather Watkins are among the high scorers in the entire division.

"The team practices every Wednesday and is always open to new members. Congratulations to the entire team for a strong effort."

St. John's Prep Honor Roll

Brother William Drinan, C.F.X., Headmaster of St. John's Preparatory School in Danvers, this week announced that 237 students have achieved academic honors for the first quarter of the 1997-98 academic year. To qualify for the Headmaster's List, 48 students achieved grades of 90% or above in all courses.

A total of 189 students qualified for the Honor Roll, which requires that all grades must be 85% or above. According to Brother Drinan, "To begin the year with such high academic standards is indeed commendable. These young men have exhibited their discipline, hard work, and dedication and it shows through their outstanding academic performance. On behalf of the faculty, administration, and their parents, I would like to say how very proud we are of these students and their accomplishments."

St. John's Preparatory School is an independent Catholic preparatory school for young men. Founded in 1907 by the Xaverian Brothers, St. John's offers a rigorous college preparatory program and is dedicated to the spiritual, intellectual, emotional, and physical development of the total person.

"...Several donations from members of the community were accepted by the (School) committee as follows," notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Mr. and Mrs. Harold Werlin donated an Image Writer II Printer to the McCall Middle School Library.

"Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bowler donated a Sharp Carousel II Microwave Oven to the McCall Middle School.

"Mr. and Mrs. Louis Massery donated a Sharp Carousel Half Pint Microwave Oven to the McCall Middle School.

"Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Thompson donated $500 for the purpose of including at-risk students in special education opportunities.

"A donation of $2,392 was presented to the Winchester High School Athletic Director from the Winchester Rotary Club. This will be used to repair the scoreboards and get them functioning. All donations were recommended by Superintendent Dr. Carol Eaton, with gratitude. Activity fees at the high school were also addressed. In an effort to reduce the mandatory $70 fee per student or maximum fee of $140 per family, students sponsored a celebrity auction.

"The auction raised approximately $6,000...allowing the fee to be decreased by five dollars...Students and their parents were informed of this fee by letter and then asked to have all fees paid by Dec. 23."

Needs prompt treatment

Shock is a complex disorder that can kill

Technically known as the failure of the cardiovascular system to provide sufficient blood circulation to all parts of the body, Ted Kerasote wrote in an article in the current issue of Sports Afield, shock is a complex disorder.

If severe and not promptly treated, it can kill.

It is caused by one of three conditions: loss of blood volume, decreased cardiac output, or the dilation of blood vessels.

To visualize a body experiencing shock, first imagine the heart as the pump of a hot-water system and the blood vessels as pipes that carry the water. If a pipe breaks, the volume of fluid in the entire system will decrease.

This might be caused by a bad wound, fracture, burn or severe diarrhea. If the pump itself malfunctions — a heart attack, say — the system won't be completely filled with fluid. The same would happen if the pipes could expand. Blood vessels dilate because of severe infections, a spinal cord injury, heat, cold or fear.

No matter, the underlying cause of insufficient blood flow to all parts of the body, the result is inadequate delivery of oxygen and nutrients and removal of waste products. Bodily processes slow, and tissues begin to die.

Pale, cool, clammy skin, anxiety, and restless behavior are all indications that a person has gone into shock. The pulse is rapid and/or weak, the breathing rapid and/or shallow. Pupils may be dilated and the victim may complain of nausea and thirst.

A progressively increasing pulse-rate means continuing blood loss and is a sign of a worsening condition, as is a deteriorating state of consciousness.

Shock is more likely to occur with severe injuries and burns, but it pays to treat every patient — from someone who falls into the campfire to someone who dislocates his shoulder — as if they are in shock.

This allows you to get a jump on a condition that can be fast-moving and fatal. If signs and symptoms improve, nothing has been lost. If symptoms deteriorate, the victim stands a better chance of recovery. Follow these four steps to treat a shock victim:

— Immediately make sure the victim has a clear airway, is breathing, has a pulse, isn't bleeding out, and has no cervical-spine injury that prevents his being moved.

— Put a pad under the victim and a sleeping bag over him. Remove wet clothes. The object is to maintain a normal body temperature.

— Unless injury to the lower extremities or pelvis prevents it, elevate the legs 8 to 10 inches to improve blood supply to the chest and head. If a victim has had a heart attack, a sitting position may be more comfortable.

If surgery appears necessary and is possible within 6 hours, do not administer fluids. If this is not the case, give the victim plain water. The definitive treatment for severe shock is fluid replacement intravenously, which is not an option in many settings. Therefore, in cases of severe shock, a speedy evacuation is paramount.

Migraines hit women hard

Migraine impacts women much more significantly than men according to a national study designed to gauge effects of the disease on its primary sufferers.

Migraine is a serious, often debilitating disease. It affects an estimated one in six American women — an estimated 18 million-at a 3-1 ratio over men.

In addition to a disproportionate prevalence of migraine among women, the disease also has a greater overall impact on the lives of many female sufferers. Self esteem, professional development and family and social life were a few areas in which women reported experiencing more negative effects than men.

For example, of the two-thirds of female sufferers (68 percent) reporting that women's role in the family is a key factor in the impact of migraine on the family, 90 percent reported that family responsibilities are the cause of the higher impact on women. Of those who felt their professional development or career considerations were affected by migraine, one-third (35 percent) reported that the combination of being a woman and a migraine sufferer makes life in the workplace more difficult than it is for male sufferers.

According to a panel of female physicians assembled to interpret the study results, female sufferers have a tendency to minimize or deny their migraine conditions and avoid seeking treatment for fear of reinforcing the female stereotype of being "emotional" or "weak."

The national study examining the impact of migraine on women consisted of phone interviews with a nationally projectable sample of 284 (269 weighted) female migraine sufferers. The study was conducted by Opinion Research Corporation of Princeton, N.J. for Glaxo Wellcome Inc. The study was conducted between October 5 and October 18, 1995.

American College of Prosthodontics, Colegio de Odontologos de Venezuela, American Dental Association and the Massachusetts Dental Society. Dr. Nouel is also a clinical instructor at Tufts University Dental School.

Dr. Nouel lives in Boston with her husband, Dr. Mauro Stuparich, a Prosthodontist who practices in downtown Boston and teaches at Tufts University Dental School as well. She enjoys skiing, golfing, the arts and long walks with their dog "Ginger."

Ultrasound lipoplasty more common

Through the utilization of ultrasound-assisted lipoplasty (UAL), plastic surgery procedures for body contouring are being refined and augmented, according to two studies to be presented at the 66th Annual Meeting of the American Society of Plastic and Reconstructive Surgeons (ASPRS).

The evolving role of UAL in body contouring and its relation to traditional suction-assisted lipoplasty (SAL) was examined in one study of 41 patients ranging in age from 20 to 68 years and including 34 female and 7 male patients. The retrospective study covered a variety of trunk body contouring procedures performed on the patients.

"As new technologies become available, we should not forget the more familiar ones," said Rod J. Rohrich, M.D., professor and chairman, department of plastic surgery, University of Texas, Southwestern Medical Center and first author of the study. "The marriage of UAL with SAL extends the role of liposuction and allows us to achieve better body contouring in patients with situations that were previously difficult, such as the male breast, back and flank areas, areas with large volumes of fat to be removed and patients that have previously had liposuction."

People who are interested in lipoplasty are encouraged to consult a board-certified plastic surgeon who has specialized training in the most advanced technology.

Consumers may call Plastic Surgery Information Service at 1-800-635-0635 or access the ASPRS website at www.plastic-surgery.org for informational brochures and names of qualified plastic surgeons in their areas.

It was mid-morning of a Sunday when a tourist stopped at a gas station in Reading. He remarked to the attendant, "This seems to be a nice quiet town, isn't it?" "You are right, it seems to be," the attendant replied, "But you just wait till church lets out. You'll think all hell let loose!"

If you drive to work, you are in a battlefield just as soon as you back out of your driveway. I get more one finger salutes from men drivers, woman drivers and just yesterday a kid on a tri-cycle, who thought I should get off the sidewalk.

I stopped for a cup of coffee this morning and after a sip I shouted to the waitress, "what the heck kind of coffee is this? It tastes terrible." She smiled and

The "Snow Train" tradition continues

Once again, eastern Massachusetts residents can ride a one-day "Snow Train" railroad excursion to snow-covered Vermont. The Massachusetts Bay Railroad Enthusiasts, Inc. (Mass Bay RRE) announced today it will again sponsor its annual VERMONT SNOW TRAIN, running on February 21, from Boston and suburban sta-said, "It's blended coffee, some of today's coffee and most of yesterday's mixed together." Now I know what they mean when they say, "Here's Mud in your eye!"

I asked my nephew Dennis Tully, "Dennis, did you see Santa Clause on Christmas Eve?" "Nope, I didn't see him - but I heard what he said when he tripped over the coffee table in the living room!"

I went to Suffolk Downs on opening day. I enjoyed watching the races and the antics of some of the people. A woman tapped me on the shoulder then said, "By any chance, do you happen to have a safety pin?" "No Ma'am, I'm sorry, I don't have one." Just then a loud voice boomed over the speakers, "THEY'RE OFF!" and the woman fainted.

tions to Brattleboro and Bellows Falls, Vermont.

The Boston & Main Railroad ran the first Snow Trains from Boston to ski destinations around northern New England in 1931. With the coming of modern highways, Snow Trains from Boston to the North Country ended in the 1950s, but riders of the old B&M Snow Trains wouldn't recognize Mass Bay RRE's 1998 version.

Instead of smoke-belching steam engines pulling creaky wood cars with stiff green plush seats, Mass Bay RRE's chartered Amtrak special train will feature modern intercity reclining seat coaches and picture-window MBTA commuter cars. Passengers can enjoy on-board cafe service or bring a picnic lunch.

"We are proud to keep up the 'Snow Train' tradition that the Boston & Main started," said Mass Bay RRE President Donald C. Foley, Jr., of Burlington. "We've been organizing railroad excursions all around New England since 1934 just after the B&M began running Snow Trains. This is the 16th consecutive year we have sponsored a 'Snow Train' from Boston."

Mass Bay RRE's 1998 VERMONT SNOW TRAIN will leave Boston's South Station at 7:45am Saturday, February 21 and travel Conrail's former Boston & Albany Railroad main line to Palmer, Mass. En route, the VERMONT SNOW TRAIN will stop at Back Bay Station and pick up suburban passengers at Wellesley Square, West Natick, and Worcester, Mass.

At Palmer, the VERMONT SNOW TRAIN turns north on the New England Central Railroad through Amherst and Millers Falls, Mass., then follows the Connecticut River to Brattleboro, arriving about 12:15pm. The VERMONT SNOW TRAIN is scheduled to return to South Station about 9pm. Mass Bay RRE's "hot line" for VERMONT SNOW TRAIN ticket information is 617-489-5277, or send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to MassBay RRE, PO Box 4245-BV, Andover, MA 01810-0814 (phone/fax 978-470-2066). SNOW TRAIN tickets are $65 for adults, $35 for children (side-trips extra).

Financial aid clinic

Local residents are invited to attend "Making Sense of Financial Aid," a free instructional clinic to be held on Saturday, February 7 from 10am to 2pm at the Lynn Educational Opportunity Center, 1 Munroe Street.

Sponsored by the Massachusetts Association of Student Financial Aid Administrators (MASFAA), the clinic is designed to demystify the financial aid process. Experts will provide answers, advice and individual assistance in filling out application forms.

The program will also feature special presentations at 10am and 12 noon. For more information call 1-800-442-1171. No pre-registration is required.

A non-profit association, MASFAA serves as an important resource on financial aid for students and their families, faculty, guidance counselors and administrators, community organizations, and government agencies.

The House of the Week

Home ideal for enjoying outdoors

G-89

THREE DORMERS and a columned front porch accent the facade of this traditional country-style home.

Plan G-89 by HomeStyles Designers Network, features a wraparound porch and an expansive backyard deck, complete with a built-in barbecue and room for a spa. The perfect home to appreciate the great outdoors, it provides 2,299 square feet of living space.

Two living areas frame the sidelighted entry. To the left, the sunny formal dining room is well suited for entertaining. To the right, the large study provides a quiet place to read or relax. The great room features a fireplace, and a bank of windows along the back wall floods the space with natural light.

The island kitchen's bayed morning room, an ideal spot to start the day, will allow one a daily view of the rising sun.

Secluded on the main floor, the

BEYOND THE COVERED FRONT PORCH, the entry is flanked by the dining room and the study. Straight ahead is the great room, where a short hallway leads to the master bedroom and private bath. Across the home, the kitchen opens to the morning room. The two-car garage is located beyond the mudroom and half-bath. The covered rear porch and deck can be reached through doors in the great room and mudroom. Upstairs, a playroom connects two secondary bedrooms, which share a full bath.

spacious master bedroom includes a private bath with a large walk-in closet, a dual-sink vanity and a whirlpool tub nestled into a bay window. The first floor features 9 foot high ceilings.

A paradise for children awaits upstairs. Two large bedrooms have access to a compartmentalized bath, and a playroom will keep the kids happy and occupied.

Decorating ideas for when you're single again

The first thing Carol Weissman Kurth did when her marriage broke up was to buy a new mattress for the master bedroom and a new set of sheets.

Her sister Judith Weissman went even further. She redecorated, from soup to nuts.

Although the divorce rate is down slightly, with 4.3 divorces per thousand of population in 1996 compared to 4.7 in 1990, quite a few people are still likely to be redecorating for one.

Approximately 43 percent of marriages will break up, says Dr. Robert Schoen, a researcher at Johns Hopkins University and a specialist in divorce statistics. And roughly 40 percent will end within two years.

The real question, Kurth says, is "What can I do to get on with my life and to turn a negative into a positive?" She's an architect in Bedford, N.Y., who was divorced three years ago.

Looking on the bright side, for one thing, "It can be therapeutic to redecorate when a relationship breaks up," she says.

And a person turning spaces that were his-and-hers into spaces that are all hers has likely doubled her wardrobe space.

As rearranging is necessary anyway, Kurth suggests installing organizers such as wire-grid hanging bars and shelving, to make the space go further.

A set of attractive cardboard hatboxes, available ready-made from catalogs or covered as a do-it-yourself project, can hold hats, scarves, handbags and sweaters on the shelves.

Kurth converted part of the bedroom into an exercise area and advises clients to do the same.

"The spot where his old ratty chair stood — often piled high with his clothes — is perfect for a new treadmill or exercise bike," the designer says. A tall wooden kitchen stool the right height for a water bottle and towel, painted to coordinate with the room, would be an inexpensive extra.

Kurth says she is working with a number of women who are redecorating after a divorce. It may be a sign of the times. Here are some of her decorating tips:

—If you get custody of his bedroom desk, turn it into a vanity or makeup area by painting and covering it with fabric. Top the desk with a piece of glass or mirror cut to size. Set it out with perfume bottles and decorative boxes filled with cosmetics.

—The bathroom decor no longer has to have a masculine accent. Sew decorative borders onto existing towels, or buy new towels and shower curtain in a feminine pattern. Add small containers of dried flowers or fresh flowers and a candle or two.

—Remove his medicines and toiletries from the medicine cabinet and use the space for your own stuff.

—Eliminate reminders of the relationship by removing framed photos of the two of

you. Don't discard the photos; put them in an album for the kids, or put them away until it's no longer painful to look at them.

Replace them with cheerful new shots to celebrate a new life. Close-ups of children, friends, pets and flowers are appealing; you can enlarge and frame small snapshots.

—For a more ambitious project, fix up the garage, as Kurth's sister did. She turned a messy area into a neat and tidy one by getting rid of excess tools and paraphernalia, buying new metal shelving to store what she did need, and painting the floor and walls.

Kurth's tips emphasize things that women can do. Men, too, will be setting up their own place. But they often wait until they make a new relationship to refeather the nest.

"In my experience," she says, "it's the women who ask for decorating tips after a separation or divorce or the breakup of a relationship."

Click a mouse From S-15

appeared on the Internet in 1994. Last year there were about half a million listings to be found on the Internet, currently there are approximately 2 million. By the end of this year it is expected that 90 percent of all active real estate listings will be on the internet.

It appears that the real estate agent of tomorrow will be pointing the keyboard as well as the pavement in order to assist prospective buyers. CENTURY 21 Real Estate Corporation recently unveiled what it termed a "total technology solution."

The solution is comprised of, among other technological tools, a new multimedia CD-ROM presentation that highlights for consumers the many programs and services that a CENTURY 21 sales agent will use in working with a client and the CENTURY 21 Web site, where consumers can review listings of homes for sale from CENTURY 21 Communities on America Online, launched in August of last year, the new digital cameras and, of course, the handy laptop.

Most recent statistics show that there are currently over 25,000 entries per week made to CENTURY 21 communities on AOL. For consumers who are not yet online, demographics, entertainment, climate, crime and a host of other details can be retrieved on the sales associates PC or better yet, at the clients home on the agents laptop. With the new CENTURY 21 communities Plus software, a consumer can even key into a specific address to determine a price range for that particular property.

Will we someday be able to purchase a home with the mere click of a mouse? Pease is doubtful. "The house hunting and home marketing aspects of the process are changing rapidly with technology," states Pease. "But when it comes to the actual buying, the transaction itself, that is where the expertise of the sales associate cannot be replaced by software."

Appliance information for kitchen remodeling

Q: We are planning on remodeling our kitchen. I know there are tons of books on the subject, but do you have any recommendations to simplify the planning process?

A: Remodeling a kitchen is a complex project, but part of the process has just become easier: getting precise appliance dimensions and specifications using a fax machine. The free service is called Dimension Express, and it's funded by manufacturers. All you pay for is the normal toll charge to access it in Incline Village, Nev.

Dimension Express provides appliance dimensions and specifications in the form of easy-to-use data sheets. The sheets contain information that is often unavailable or hard to decipher when presented in manufacturer catalogs. For example, the sheets provide front, top and side views of an appliance, dimensions for door swings, clearances to combustible surfaces, cutout dimensions, trim kit information, colors, and installation guidelines. To ensure accuracy, the information is constantly revised to reflect changes in product development. And manufacturers are required to approve information before it is released on the system.

To access the service using a fax machine, dial (702) 833-3600 and press the number 2 when prompted. Listen to the entire recorded message and then press the start button to receive five pages of introductory information. Don't hang up the handset, however, until the machine starts receiving the pages. At this writing, the system contained information from 21 manufacturers, all of which is available 24 hours a day.

To submit a question, write to Popular Mechanics, Reader Service Bureau, 224 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019.

Low unemployment fuels pay increases

In the midst of record low unemployment, companies are paying more to retain their accounting and finance employees, according to results from a nationwide survey. Of the 900 chief financial officers (CFOs) polled who said they have taken action due to low unemployment, 32 percent indicated they have increased pay for current employees. Twenty-three percent of CFOs said they were offering higher starting salaries to new employees.

The survey was developed by Accountemps, the world's first and largest temporary staffing service for accounting, finance and bookkeeping professionals. It was conducted by an independent research firm and represents a stratified random sample of companies with more than 20 employees.

Respondents were asked: "Which of the following has been the most significant result of the nation's low unemployment rate on your accounting and financial staffing issues?" Of those who have taken action, their responses were:

Pay increases for existing employees.....32%
 Higher starting salaries.....23%
 Increased employment advertising and recruiting efforts .....17%
 Increased use of accounting temporaries.....10%
 More non-monetary incentives and perks.....9%
 Other.....9%
 100%

"The commitment to increased compensation for current employees demonstrates that companies are wisely addressing heightened concerns about retention," said Max Messmer, chairman of Accountemps. "Businesses are recognizing that offering competitive compensation packages is a critical factor in sustaining growth and profitability, particularly in these times of low unemployment."

Messmer noted that the robust hiring environment is also leading many firms to implement a wider range of hiring strategies, including expanded advertising and recruitment activities and the use of temporary accounting professionals.

Merrimack nominated for award

The Merrimack River may soon be designated an American Heritage River by President Clinton. The Merrimack River Watershed Council (MRWC) and the Center for Family, Work and Community at UMass Lowell teamed up to nominate the Merrimack for American Heritage River status.

The nomination includes 22 of the 30 municipalities that front on the River between Franklin, NH and Newburyport, MA. All 30 municipalities were contacted and invited to support the nomination. Supportive letters from the 22 municipalities and 21 other groups or agencies were sent to Washington on December 10 as part of the nomination package.

The President will select 10 rivers from around the country for designation as American Heritage Rivers. It is anticipated that decisions will be made in January and may be announced during the President's upcoming State-of-the-Union Address.
